[illegible] NEW DRIVE AT GERMANS IN BELGIUM

SHARP FIGHTING IN CONQUERED KINGDOM

Berlin Refutes Claims of Important Gains by Kitchener's Men Given Out in Paris

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The British army has begun another drive at the important section of the German line which holds conquered Belgium. Sharp fighting occurred yesterday in Belgium and the official French report of today states that the British captured 200 yards of German trenches, retaining their position in the face of several counter attacks.

The statement from Berlin, however, says the British were ejected from minor positions they had taken from the Germans and that British attacks near Ypres broke down, with heavy losses.

The French are again on the offensive on the eastern end of the line and substantial progress in Alsace is announced at Paris. The Berlin report asserts that French onslaughts near Combres and in the Vosges failed.

Lieut. Roland Garros, one of the best known French aviators, whose exploits during the war won him fame, has been captured by the Germans.

The authenticity of the official French and British war reports is challenged by the German war office, which characterizes as inventions their claims to victories. These claims, it is said, are disproved by the official German statements.

Information has reached Petrograd that the Austrian attempts to gain position recently captured by the Russians have been abandoned.

Paris, April 19.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities which read:

"British troops yesterday captured in Belgium, near Zwartelen, 200 yards of German trenches. These they have retained in spite of several counter attacks.

"We have been successful on both banks of the river Fecht, in Alsace, and our advance is being pressed forward on the north bank. We have gained possession of the summit Burgkorpfeld, to the southwest of Schilleckerwassen, which directly commands the valley. On the south bank in the region of Schnefanrieth, we have made notable progress. our troops marching from the south to the north in the direction of the Fecht and Metzerol, which is south of Colmar. In this district we made an important gain with the occupation of elections, the northernmost height of which commands the course of the Fecht in front of Burgkorpfeld.

"In the course of this action we captured a division of mountain artillery, two cannon of 74 millimetres calibre and two machine guns.

"The German aeroplanes which flew over Belfort recently, dropped four bombs. These did some damage to two hangars and set fire to four chests of

FAMOUS FRENCH AVIATOR TAKEN

Lieut. Garros, Known in U. S., Captured by Germans in Belgium.

Berlin, April 19.—By Wireless to Sayville.—The report on the progress of hostilities given out today by German headquarters that Lieut. Roland G. Garros, the famous Frenc haviator, has been made a prisoner by the Germans, near Inglemunster, Belgium, thirty-seven miles north of Courtrai.

Lieut. Garros is well known in the United States, having flown in many competitions in this country. Since the beginning of the war he has been among the most intrepid and daring of the French military airmen. His latest exploit was at Dunkirk, three days ago, when he shot dead in the air the aviator and the observer of a German aeroplane. He went out against this machine alone, and as his machine was the faster he was able to gain an advantageous position from which he fired with fatal precision. Two of Garro's bullets took effect and the German machine crashed to earth. Both the aviator and the observer had been shot dead.

Garros was born of French parents at Capetown, Union of South Africa, in 1885.

MAYOR'S SECRETARY BACK.

D. C. McCarthy, private secretary to Mayor Hosey, has returned from Chicago, to which city he was called last week to furnish his deposition in a suit against the Illinois Central railway.

Many Turn Out to Oppose New School

About one hundred opponents of the proposed new school building in Washington township to take the place of the old Scarlett school recently destroyed by fire, attended the hearing Monday court house before D. O. McComb, county superintendent. It is not likely that the county superintendent will give a decision on the proposition for several days.

A remonstrance containing 394 signatures of voters and taxpayers in Washington township was presented to the county superintendent some days ago remonstrating against the proposed new building, not so much because of a new building which it is contended is needed, but in opposition to the centralization plan. Under the consolidation scheme proposed by Trustee Leonard Stolte, a number of the schools in the township would be abolished.

The Remonstrance.

The remonstrance presented to the county superintendent follows: "We, the undersigned residents, parents, voters and taxpayers of Washington township, Allen county, by way of petition and remonstrance, beg to inform you that we respectfully remonstrate against the [illegible], construction or establishment of [illegible] school in Washington township, Allen county, for the reason that we deem the expenses and outlay therefor to be far in excess of any benefits that could be derived therefrom and the additional reasons that no such school is of sufficient use in the township to warrant the high expense of constructing the same and the outlay of $25,000 is far in excess of the necessitation of such school in our township."

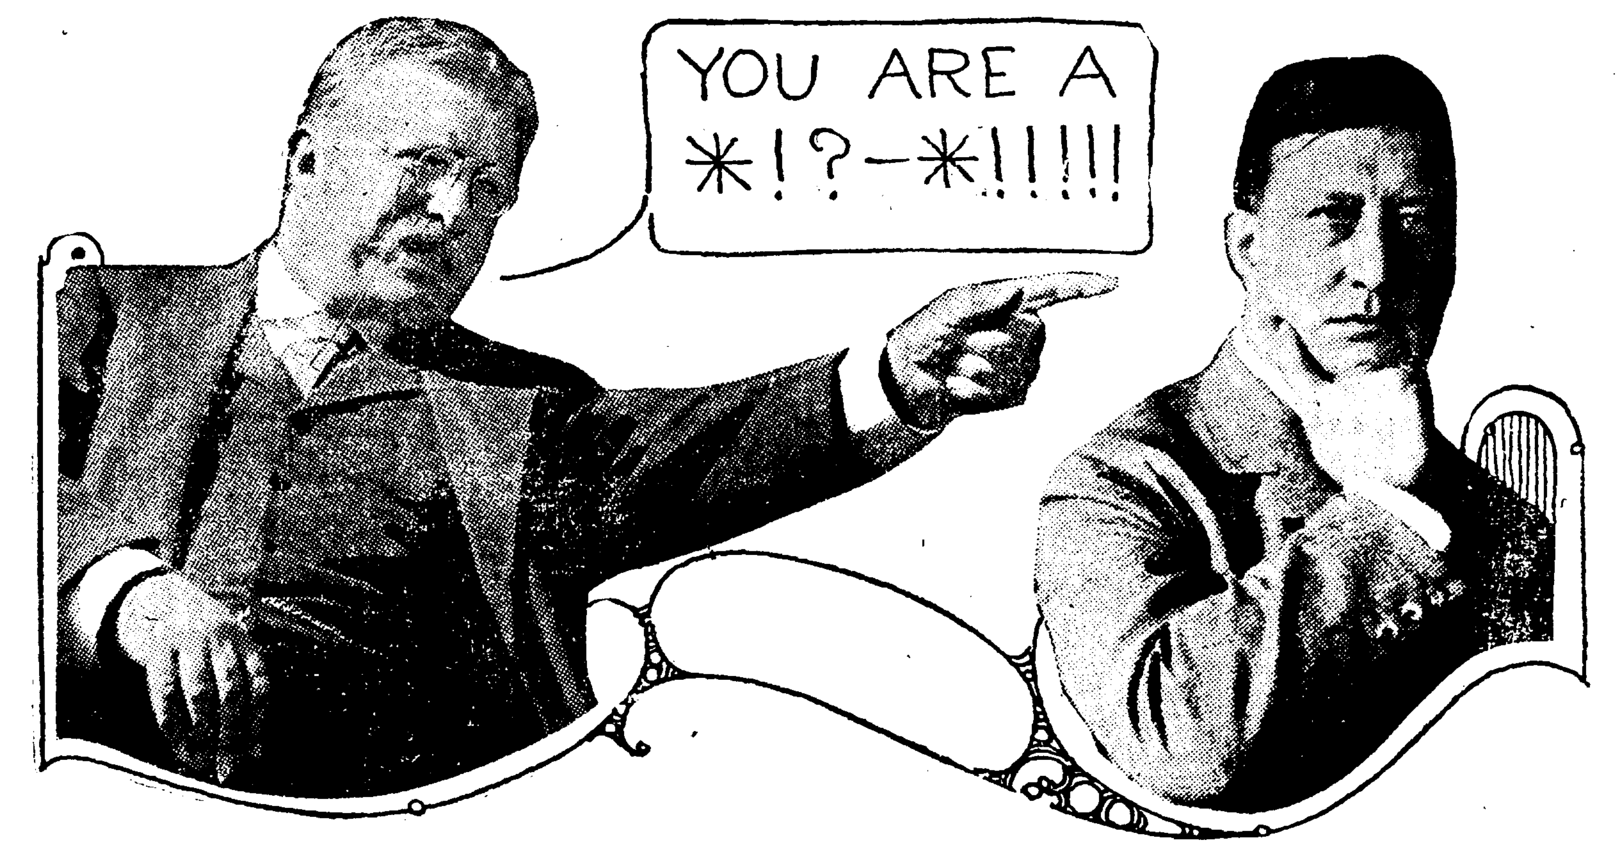
May Take Appeal.

In the event that the county superintendent decides in favor of the new school building an appeal will probably be taken to the state superintendent of schools at Indianapolis and if this cannot be done, then, according to many of the remonstrators, an injunction suit will be filed i the circuit court in an effort to prevent the appropriation of the money necessary for the construction of the building.

The remonstrators were represented at the hearing Monday afternoon by Attorneys Belot, Dreibelbiss and Meyers, while Trustee Stolte and members of his advisory board were represented by Attorneys Emrick, O'Rourke and Harris.

The feeling in Washington township is intense and the county superintendent's decision is awaited with [illegible]

TWO BIG FIGURES IN LIBEL SUITS—T. R. AND BOSS BARNS.



The $50,000 libel suit filed by William Barnes, former republican state chairman of New York, against Colonel Roosevelt, is the result of charges made during the last campaign by Colonel Roosevelt to the general effect that Barnes and his "sub-bosses" were secretly hand in glove with democratic bosses in corrupt politics in New York.

WITHIN WALLS OF U. S. PRISON

Gates of Leavenworth Bastile Close on Terre Haute Crowd.

ROBERTS, SMILING, LEADS THE FIFTEEN

Convicted Men Will Get Places as Clerks and Orderlies.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 19.—The special car carrying Mayor Donn M. Roberts and fourteen others convicted in the Terre Haute election conspiracy case, arrived at the United States penitentiary at 10:35 this morning. The trip to prison began at Indianapolis at 1:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

When the Missouri Pacific "Colorado Flyer" approached the prison yard, the car containing the Terre Haute party was cut off and a special engine pushed it through the big iron gate into the track on the prison property. Another gate swung open and the car was brought within a few feet of the prison door. There was a momentary delay as Warden Thomas W. Morgan and other prison officials conferred with the government officers on the train.

File Down Car Steps.

Then the little procession of convicted men began to descend from the car steps and they shook hands with the guards who had made the trip with them. As they walked two by two toward the office of the captain of the day watch they talked among themselves in subdued tones. They appeared cheerful. Captain J. M. Purcel, acting deputy warden, received the prisoners. After their names and addresses and other prison information had been given and their valuables had been placed in separate envelopes, the men went to the office of the prison physician, where each submitted to a physical examination. Then they were photographed and their Bertillon measurements and finger prints were recorded. They were permitted to retain many small articles such as brushes, handkerchiefs and personal keepsakes. After the "dressing in" process had been completed Mayor Roberts and his assistants entered the dining room, where they partook of their first meal in prison.

Finding Tasks for Them.

Warden Morgan said it had not been determined what tasks would be assigned the men. Places probably will be found for them as clerks and orderlies. They will begin tomorrow. The prison already is overcrowded and for months it has been necessary to care for new prisoners in barracks and dormitories. There are only 420 cells and until the completion of the east main cell wing the Terre Haute men probably will be housed at various places in the institution. At first they must go to regular cells to spend their first day.

The new charges will be assigned as "first grade" prisoners. This grading permits them to receive and answer letters and relatives may visit them every two weeks. Joseph Strauss, one of the six prisoners permitted to make the trip unaccompanied, arrived [illegible]

ELEPHANTS WANTED TO COME TO TOWN

Circus Herd Breaks Away from Winter Quarters and Invades Peru.

Peru, Ind., April 19.—A herd of elephants, a part of a circus, broke away from the winter quarters today and reached Peru before the keeper was able to corral them.

The elephants crossed the Mississinewa river twice, tore down a heavy stone fence in front of James Tinckum's house and dashed across a field toward the Wabash river. They were headed off and when they reached the road again they upset two circus wagons loaded with seats.

Keeper Dunlap blocked the road with his horse and the beasts stopped immediately.

COURT RESERVES THAW DECISION

New York, April 19.—Supreme Court Justice Hendrick reserved decision today on the application of counsel for Harry K. Thaw for a jury trial to determine Thaw's sanity. He requested counsel to submit briefs and announced that he would return his decision before Thursday.

That date was fixed for the re-appearance of counsel before him on the writ of habeas corpus upon which the application was based. If his decision favors Thaw's lawyers, a date for trial will be fixed. If trial is denied Thaw's attorneys stand ready to call witnesses in support of their contention for the decision of the court in person unaided by a jury. The point at issue between Thaw's counsel and attorneys for the state was whether the court had an inherent right, on a writ of habeas corpus to grant a jury trial.

This proceeding is independent of Thaw's appeal from a recent decision of the appellate division ordering his return to Matteawan asylum.

WILLIAM CARTER IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

William Carter, of 423 Old Fort Place, the oldest furnace man in the city and for fifty years a deacon of the First Baptist church, passed away at 8:55 o'clock Monday morning at the age of 78 years. Death followed an illness of several months' duration. In November, 1914, he suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time his health has been very poor.

The deceased was born and raised in Buffalo, N. Y., but moved to this city in 1856 and four years later, on March 1, was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Cutter, who preceded him in death. WILL TAKE PICTURES OF LINCOLN HIGHWAY

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Commercial club Monday afternoon arrangements were made for the taking of moving pictures of scenes along the Lincoln highway and also of Fort Wayne. These scenes are to be shown in all the cities along the thoroughfares between New York and San Francisco and inasmuch as Fort Wayne is the third largest city along the highway, the Commercial club is anxious that the city make a good showing.

The pictures are being taken under the auspices of the various Rotary clubs along the route and the Commercial club of this city will co-operate in every way possible. The date for the celebration will be determined by the time the moving picture men can be here. Governor Samuel M. Ralston will be the principal speaker.

The following new members were voted into the club: L. A. Ivins, C. C. Hewitt and Harry J. Collier, [illegible]

FINAL COURT HOPE IS GONE

Only Pardon Board Can Now Save Leo Frank From Death Penalty.

APPEAL DISMISSED BY SUPREME COURT

Declares Man Enjoyed All His Legal Rights in Georgia Courts.

Washington, April 19.—Leo M. Frank, the Brooklyn man under death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, an Atlanta factory girl, lost another step in his fight for life in the supreme court of the United States today. In a decision to which Justices Holmes and Hughes dissented the court dismissed Frank's appeal from the federal court of Georgia, which refused to release him on a writ of habeas corpus.

Frank contended that alleged "mob violence at his trial and the fact that he was absent from the court room when the jury returned its verdict had removed it from the jurisdiction of the Georgia court.

The court declared Frank had enjoyed all his legal rights in the Georgia courts. Seemingly no other avenue of escape from the death penalty is open to Frank through the courts. The state pardon officials might relieve him.

Justice Pitney's Decision.

Justice Pitney, in the majority decision, stated that the obligation rested upon the supreme court to look through the form and into the very heart and substance of the matter, not only of the averment in Frank's petition, but in the trial proceedings in the state courts themselves.

"The petition contains a narrative of disorder, hostile manifestations and uproad, said the justice, "which, if it stood alone and were to be taken as true, may be conceded to have been inconsistent with a fair trial and impartial verdict. But to consider this as standing alone is to take a wholly superficial view, for the narrative is coupled with other statements from which it clearly appears that the same allegations of disorder were submitted first to the trial court and afterwards to the supreme court of Georgia as a ground for averting the consequences of the trial, and these allegations were considered by those courts successively at times and places and under circumstances wholly apart from the atmosphere of the trial and free from any suggestion of mob domination or the like.

"The facts were examined by these courts upon evidence submitted on both sides and both courts found Frank's allegations to be groundless except with respect to a few matters of irregularity not harmful to the defendant. This court holds that such a determination of the facts cannot, in this collateral inquiry be treated as annulity."

Justice Holmes Dissents.

Justice Holmes based his dissent largely on the ground that the finding of the state supreme court on the [illegible]

NOW AT WORK GETTING JURY

Barnes vs. Roosevelt Libel Action Goes to Trial at Syracuse.

EACH FOE IGNORES OTHER'S PRESENCE

Vast Throng Gathers to Hear Case Against Ex-President.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 19.—Twelve men satisfactory to counsel for Wm. Barnes in the suit for alleged libel against Theodore Roosevelt asking $50,000, were selected during the opening session of the trial in the supreme court here today. The Barnes attorneys used up for their allotted six peremptory challenges before twelve men they decided were satisfactory were in the jury box. Col. Roosevelt's lawyers expected to begin their examination of the prospective jurors at the afternoon session of the court.

Mr. Barnes and Col. Roosevelt sat at adjoining tables, but neither paid any attention to the other.

The room was crowded to the doors and outside the court house a great crowd of curious persons was kept in line by policemen awaited an opportunity to get into the room.

Examination of talesmen in the special panel of 75 called for the case began as soon as Justice Wm. S. Andrews ascended the bench and opened court.

It had become known in Syracuse that after the lawyers, talesmen and reporters had been seated less than fifty spectators could be accommodated. Consequently those most anxious to secure seats in the court room appeared early. Mr. Barnes upon his arrival here last night held a conference with his attorneys in a hotel. Col. Roosevelt spent the night at the home of his friend, Horace Wilkinson.

The most elaborate preparations were made to handle the crowd at the court house. The court room was isolated from the rest of the building by boarding up the corridors approaching it. In these partitions small doors have been cut. About fifty deputy sheriffs and policemen were on hand to preserve order.

Col. Roosevelt arrived at the court house before his opponent. He wore a large black felt hat, pulled down well over his eyes. The colonel stopped in the corridor outside the court room and greeted several friends. Then he went in the room and took a seat at the table reserved for his counsel. When Mr. Barnes arrived in court he took a seat at his counsel's table. Col. Roose-

MADE OUT OF WHOLE CLOTH, SAYS TUMULTY

Washington, April 19.—Published reports that Wm. F. McCombs would resign as chairman of the democratic national committee drew the following formal statement today from Secretary Tumulty at the white house:

"The story appearing in the morning papers of Mr. McCombs' resignation and my selection to succeed him as chairman of the national democratic committee is made out of whole cloth and is the gossip of persons whose purpose is to make trouble and create discord within the ranks of the party."

Other reports have been to the effect that Homer S. Cummin, vice chairman of the national committee, would succeed Mr. McCombs in case he resigned.

HURL MAIN FORCE AGAINST RUSSIANS

London, April 19.—Abandonment by the German general staff of plans for a general offensive in France in inferred in information received from there. It is said this decision is indicated by official communications to the Italian cabinet as well as by statements of Germans in official circles and that hope of penetration further into France has been put aside.

A dispatch from Geneva gives the impression that the Austrians and Germans have decided to concentrate their energies on the eastern campaign. It is said that at council of war presided over by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, it was determined to transfer the Austrian heavy artillery now before Verdun to Poland and to send back to Cracow, western Galicia, the Hungarian cavalry now on the western front.

The situation in the east is still to be cleared up. Confident assertions from Berlin last week that the Russian advance in the Carpathian region had been halted are offset by the claim of the Petrograd war office that the principal chain of mountains, comprising a 75-mile section of the front, is now in possession of the Russians and that 70,000 Austrians have been captured in the last few weeks. It is said in Petrograd that the movement toward the interior of Hungary will be resumed after the troops have been rested and reinforced. The Austrian war office, however, maintains that the Austro-German forces are gaining further victories.

Count Alvaro De Romanons, former premier of Spain, has made a public statement that a "solemn declaration" should be made by Spain to show where her sympathy lies in the war without violating her neutrality. He pointed out that Spain's relations with the triple entente consisting of Great Britain France and Russia, had been more and more friendly of recent years.

British Lose Submarine.

The British, as an offset to their success in destroying a Turkish torpedo boat which attacked the transport Manitou off Chios yesterday, lost the submarine E-15, which while carrying out a difficult reconnaissance in the Dardanelles mine field, ran aground on Kephez Point, the crew being made prisoners.

According to the Turkish report seven of the crew are missing.

An official statement from the British admiralty gives the substance of a further report concerning the loss of life aboard the transport Manitou, which was attacked by a Turkish torpedo boat in the Aegean sea.

The report shows that twenty-four men were drowned, instead of one hundred, as first reported, and that twenty-seven others are missing. The transport itself was not damaged.

WELL KNOWN JEWELER DIES AT SANITARIUM

E. G. Trenkley Expires at Battle Creek After a Short Illness.

Eugene G. Trenkley, 38 years old, a well known business man of Fort Wayne and a member of the firm of Trenkley & Koerber, jewelers, died Sunday evening at 9 o'clock at the Kellogg sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich. Mr. Trenkley had gone there four weeks ago for treatment, following a general breakdown of his health. The news of his death was received late Sunday night from Mr. Koerber, and comes as a great shock to every one who knew him.

EUGENE G. TRENKLEY.

Mr. Koerber, his partner, received word Sunday morning that Mr. Trenkley was in a serious condition. This was the first time that hope had been given up for his recovery and Mr. Koerber hurried to Battle Creek in an automobile. Mrs. Trenkley, formerly Miss Emma Bulger, whom he married in December, 1913, had gone with him to the sanitarium and was at his bedside when the end came.

The deceased was a son of the late Celestine Trenkley, a pioneer jeweler of this city. Following the death of his father he took complete charge of his father's affairs and continued in success. As a member of the Commercial club he was active in all of its affairs and was identified with every movement of advancement in Fort Wayne.

Mr. Trenkley died just three months later than his mother, Mrs. Emly Trenkley, but surviving he leaves the following brothers and sisters: Edward and Arthur Trenkley, of Minneapolis; Theodore and Miss Edna Trenkley and Mrs. T. H. Kimmel, of Fort Wayne.

Mr. Koerber and the widow left Battle Creek with the remains at noon Monday and will arrive in this city at 7 o'clock.

ENDS HIS OWN LIFE AFTER WIFE'S DEATH

Tilted Head of Reuter's Telegram Company Dies a Suicide.

London, April 19.—Baron Herbert De Reuter, managing director of Reuter's Telegram company, was found dead yesterday at his home near Reigate, Surrey. A discharged revolver was found near his body and the authorities declare there is little doubt he committed suicide. Baron De Reuter was prostrated by the death of his wife last Thursday. Her body is still in the home awaiting interment. Their only son is in the army.

Baron Augustus Julius Clemens Herbert de Reuter was born March 10, 1852. He was educated at Harrow, Oxford and Paris. His wife, whom he married in 1876, was a daughter of the late Robert Campbell of Basco pary, Berkshire. Besides the son and heir, who is in the British army, they are survived by a daughter who is the wife of J. W. E. J. Douglas. Baron de Reuter succeeded to the title upon the death in 1899 of his father, who was created a baron of the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha in 1871. Royal license for permission to use the title in England was granted in 1891 by Queen Victoria.

The first baron was the founder of Reuters Telegram company now one of the leading news gathering organizations of the world. In 1851 when the cable was laid between England and France the headquarters of the company were transferred to London.

SEEK RIGHTS FOR JEWS IN WAR ZONE

Movement to Secure Simple Justice Inaugurated in New York.

New York, April 19.—The extension of a movement to obtain equal rights for Jews in all beligerent countries was inaugurated here today as the result of a meeting last night of 300 delegates composing the National Workmen's committee on Jewish rights. Jewish labor organizations having a membership of 300,000 are represented in this committee, it is claimed. One of the main purposes is to obtain equal rights for Jews in Russia, but A. I. Shiplikoff, secretary of the committee, said conventions would be held throughout the world in a universal equal rights movement of the Jewish masses.

Promoters of this idea expressed the hope that parties of Europe will adopt the demands of the Jews in warring countries to be placed in equality with all other citizens. It was asserted that a demand would be made for Jewish representation in the peace congress of Europe when the war is ended.

St. Louis, April 19.—Trial of the suit against the will of the late James Campbell, traction magnate, was scheduled to begin in the circuit court here today. An estate estimated at $16,000,000 is involved.

Campbell's will left his entire estate in equal shares to his widow and Lois Campbell, to whom he referred as his daughter. After their death and the death of any heir which Mrs. Burkham might leave the entire estate will go to St. Louis university. Both Mrs. Campbell and Burkham will appear in court.

ONLY SALVAGE WORK CARRIED ON BY JAPS

Turtle Bay Rumors Set at Rest by Commander Irwin's Report.

Washington, April 19.—Any doubt that may have existed in the minds of administration officials as to the purpose of Japanese operations in Turtle bay, Lower California, it was believed here today, had been set at rest by the report of Commander Noble Irwin, of the cruiser New Orleans that there were no indications of any activity except salvage work on the stranded cruiser Asama.

Commander Irwin had been sent to Turtle bay by the navy department to investigate newspaper reports that Japan had established a permanent naval base there. Officials all along had expressed disbelief in the reports that Japan had intended permanent occupation.

The Asama has been aground in Turtle bay since December and reports had said that the presence of British warships was being used as a cloak for establishing a base.

BENZONIA PRODUCES A MARVELOUS MULE

"Wink" Too Smart for the Other Animals in Barn; Gets All Their Feed.

Benzonia, Mich., April 17.—Jim Kibbey swears he has the smartest mule in the southern peninsula of Michigan. The mule just has been exposed by accident after fattening up for two months at the expense of Jim's absent-mindedness.

Jim has about fifteen head of horses and mules this spring in his feed barn. He is known as the most absent-minded fellow in the county. He forgot so often whether or not he had fed the stock that he had to put a clock in the barn and feed exactly at 6 o'clock morning and night.

In feeding he used to forget which manger he had poured the chop feed into so some of the animals got two feeds and some got none. To prevent this he carried a piece of chalk and as soon as he fed one animal he chalked up a mark so he wouldn't repeat. He noticed that Wink, the big one-eye roan mule, was getting fat, but thought nothing of it until last week.

He poured a feed of oats into Ben's manger, and chalked up a mark. A minute later the mark was gone and he got curious. Next feeding time he watched Wink. As soon as the feed was poured into the manger and Jim's back was turned Wink stuck his head over the manger and licked off the chalk mark so as to get another feed.

Jim thought that was a good joke on him and kept watching. Yesterday he discovered that Wink is in the habit of reaching up with his nose and turning the hands of the clock to 6 o'clock along about five and trying to hurry up feeding time by an hour.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

DEATH CAUSES PUBLIC SORROW.

Columbia City Schools Close for Funeral of Teacher.

Columbia City, Ind., April 19.—The public schools of this city were closed today out of respect for Prof. Orval L. Pence, director of manual training, whose death occurred in the Lutheran hospital at Fort Wayne following an operation. The funeral was arranged to take place at his late residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with Rev. W. E. Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment will be made in the Blue River cemetery. The pall bearers chosen were from the faculty of the schools as follows: Superintendent J. C. Sanders, Fred Musselman, R. G. Schaeffer, T. B. McGuire, Herbert Ihrig and Firmer Born. Members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, of which the deceased was a member, were chosen as an escort of honor. Few deaths in this city have caused sorrow more general and sincere. Prof. Pence was a young man of high character and companionable qualities and possessed ability of a high order. He was born in Smith township, this county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Pence, September 21, 1883. He attended the public schools of his township, was graduated in 1905 from the Columbia City high school. After teaching school in the townships of the county for a time he completed a course at Valparaiso university and the State Normal school at Terre Haute. Seven years ago he came to this city and had since been engaged in different departments of the schools. He was married in June, 1913, to Miss Mayme Flora, who survives him.

VICIOUS HOG ATTACKS BOY.

Warsaw, Ind., April 19.—Wilbur, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morrison, who live on the farm of Dr. W. L. Hines, just north of the city, narrowly escaped death when he was attacked by a maddened hog at the slaughter house of Jack Robinson.

L. H. Bricker, of Oswego, driving near the slaughter house, saw a dog fighting a pig and then saw a boy in the midst of the struggle. He urged his horse into a run and by running from the road to the slaughter house, arrived just in time to rescue the little boy. The faithful dog, which was risking its own life to save that of its master, was almost worn out and in a few minutes more the pig would probably have reached the child. As it was the little boy was uninjured.

NEGLIGENCE IS CHARGED.

Topeka, Ind., April 19.—The Topeka opera house, constructed at a cost of $10,000, was totally destroyed in a fire which for a time threatened the destruction of a number of other buildings in the downtown district and dwellings over the town. The loss was partially covered by insurance. The fire is said to have resulted from the negligence of an employe at the opera house who had placed inflamable scenery near a register on the stage, which caught on fire. The building was known as Sycamore Hall and was completed in 1905. Straus Brothers of Ligonier, Andrew Carnegie and Lyman Babcock, of this place, furnished the funds to construct the playhouse, which has been donated to the Topeka Literary society.

The trouble arose over differences in the school between the teacher and two sons of the defendant.

SUNDAY GREAT DAY FOR PEDESTRIANS

Many Take Advantage of Warm Breezes to Be Out-of-Doors.

With the weather the warmest it has been since last fall, the streets of the city were thronged with pedestrians, automobiles and vehicles of every description throughout the entire day Sunday. The thermometer registered 72 degrees at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, which, according to Observer H. T. Collman, was the warmest period of the day.

The banks of the rivers were lined with fishermen from morning to night and many took advantage of the opportunity to visit the parks for the first time this season. Cars were run to Robison park every hour during the afternoon for the first time this year and although the park will not be officially opened until the first Sunday preceding Decoration day, there were hundreds of visitors there Sunday.

It was also a great day for walking. A party of young people walked from Fort Wayne to New Haven Sunday afternoon, not to establish any record, but just for the sport of it. Those in the party were: Esther McFagan, Esther Thompson, Bernadette Hayes, Mary [illegible] zinska, Kenneth Jautz, Paul Wyss, Noah Wilber, Lawrence O. Offerle, Earl Henderson and Anthony J. Offerle.

Another crowd of young people walked to New Haven Sunday afternoon. In this party were the following: Katherine Klemm, Margaret Oakes, Ethel Lehr, Ethel Morris and Celia Ramer.

NEW TYPEWRITER FOR CHINESE LANGUAGE

Student at New York University, an Oriental, Conceived Machine.

New York, April 19.—The first Chinese typewriter has been invented by a student in New York university, Heuen Chi. It makes 4,200 characters. The inventor believes that with practice a speed of forty words a minute may be obtained—which is quite good for Chinese.

The machine has only three keys. One is a back spacer, another the space key and the third the key with which all the 4,200 characters used are struck. The characters are made up of combinations of "radicals," or base characters. There are about 50,000 possible combinations.

Heuen Chi, the inventor, conceived the idea that a typewriter could be made to write Chinese while he was at his [illegible] one character represents a whole word in Chinese, though thousands of those characters are made up of similar characters which alone represent words themselves.

Writes Japanese, Too.

Coming here as a government student after a period in London university, he continued work on his invention, which has been patented in Japan as well as China. It writes Japanese, too.

Consul General Y. Y. Yang, of this city, wrote the first letter on the machine. It was addressed to the Chinese minister in Washington and contained approximately 100 words. It took two hours to write, but the inventor said this slow speed was due to the unfamiliarity of the operator with the characters.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Proverbs 4:1-15.

1 Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.

4 He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments and live.

5 Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 Wisdom is the principal thing: therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.

9 She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.

10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many.

11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in right paths.

12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.

13 Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life.

What the Fire Marshal Has Done

The first report to cover a complete twelve months of the operation of the Indiana fire marshal's department since its organization in the spring of 1913, has just been issued by State Fire Marshal W. E. Longley, and it contains much information that will be of interest to Indiana citizens. The figures showing a total fire loss of $7,926,936 in Indiana during the year 1914 are just a bit astounding, even to those who have long appreciated the tremendous economic waste by flames.

Mr. Longley shows that the expense of his department to the state in 1914 was $31,664,03. July was the month which led in both the number of fires, 977, and in the value of property destroyed—$1,172,545. Four-of-July celebrations are naturally credited with a goodly portion of the total for the month, and the figures furnish further argument for the "sane" celebrations of the Fourth.

Dealing with causes, the report sets forth that fires of "unknown origin were most numerous, with "sparks from chimney" and "communicated loss" following next in order. A total of 1,266 fires are charged to defective flues, with 1,762 fires of unknown origin and 1,332 from chimney sparks. Thirty-eight causes in all are assigned for the fires of the year. Incendiaries are credited with having caused a total of 166 blazes during the twelve months. On charges of incendiarism, thirty-one arrests were made. Of these, eleven were convicted, four acquitted, juries disagreed in three cases and others have not yet reached final disposition. It is significant that the state fire marshal suggests as a remedy for what he terms the "fire bug germ" legislation toward the regulation of insurance underwriting, and he makes the contention that ninety per cent. of the "crooked" fires in Indiana are traceable to over-insurance and the temptation to burn to realize on the policies.

In carrying on its preventive work the fire marshal's department made a total of 17,906 inspections during the year, the most common violations of the fire code noted being the accumulation of waste and debris calculated to produce fires by spontaneous combustion or to aid in the spread of flames started by other causes. Mr. Longley believes, also, that many now idle hours of the paid town and city fireman might be utilized as an inspector of fire risks, and advises that he be so employed during a part of each day.

Section 10 of the new Indiana primary law promises to cause as much worry to Indiana republican leaders as did the famous schedule K to the tariff-makers. On the face of the statute, which provides that in order to voate at the primary, in the event of challenge, the voter must make affidavit that he is a qualified voter, that at the last previous election he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party for which he now desires to vote at the primary, and that he intends to vote for and support the regular nominees of such party at the coming election. The hitch in the case, of course, is the progressive voter, whom the republicans fear will be thus debarred from returning to the republican party fold, where the fatted calf awaits him. The situation is just now engaging the attention of a good many of the most eminent legal lights in the Indiana republican organization.

Delving back into history, a federal statistician has discovered that in 1860 the average tax rate per $100 of assessed valuation in Indiana was 90 cents; in 1870, $1.63; in 1880, $1.64; in 1890, $1.82; in 1902, $1.97; in 1912, $2.50, and in 1914, according to state reports, it was practically $3. Still, it hardly needed a comparative statistical report from the federal bureau to convince us that taxes are on the jump in Indiana. Any man who has been paying 'em has been morally convinced of that fact on two separate and distinct occasions each year—to-wit, spring and fall.

Failure of the convicted Terre Haute election gangsters to secure the bond that would have given immunity from incarceration in the federal penitentiary pending the decision in their appeal of their cases shows again how completely the power of the disreputable political gang has been broken by the jury's finding in the case. Without funds and without friends who could have come forward and at least deferred the stigma of the convict's uniform, Mayor Roberts and his followers appear to have been definitely elected to membership in the Down and Out club.

Just to still public clamor over the matter, which he seems to have detected considerably in advance of anybody else, Senator Borah, of Idaho, has taken occasion to issue a statement. Mr. Borah vociferously declares that he is not and will not become a candidate for the republican nomination for president next year. But all is not lost. The senator coyly qualifies his attitude [illegible] should his party by any chance [illegible]

FEMININE SWIMMING SCOUT COMES FROM HONOLULU TO SECURE GIRL SWIMMERS.

Miss Stacker is a sister of Ruth Stacker, the American record holder for the fifty yard dash, and is president of the Hui Au Kai Swimming club in Honolulu. She brings a special invitation to Frances Lyons Cowells, of San Francisco, and will also extend invitations to other girls to make the trip.

INDIANA'S PENAL FARM.

(Indianapolis News.)

The state penal farm in Putnam county, which has just been made ready for prisoners, is not an experiment, although the venture is the first in Indiana. Other states have conducted penal farms, generaly with much success. It is planned to alleviate distressing conditions in the jails, to decrease the cost of punishment, but, more than all, to improve the moral and physical lives of the prisoners. Indiana has purchased a farm which, the investigators believe, will admirably meet all demands made on it. It includes various types of soil, some timber, a portion of stone bearing land, and possibly some that may be developed for its chemical or mineral worth. A large part is devoted to ordinary farming and to the growing of fruit.

In no other two ways has the progress of humanity been more effective than in prison reform and the promotion of popular education. One purposes to salvage wrecks of manhood, and the other to build up true character. It is not so many years—not further back than Dickens' day—since prisone were squalid holes of inquiry. But to maintain standards raised now is not enough. There must be constant effort to improve.

Education may reasonably develop itself—good begetting good. A prison, this country has proved to its dismay, may sometimes be only a burden, and in no sense a corrective institution. The state penal farm should be corrective. The men who are to be sent to it are not of the most depraved stamp. It may well be that many of the inmates, with consideration and opportunity, will serve their terms and leave the place chastened and strengthened. For this reason, a serious responsibility rests on the management. Politics has no more right to influence the conduct of a prison than of a hospital. The chief aim of the penal farm is to help the prisoners to help themselves, thereby removing cares and burdens from society.

BRIDES AND PANCAKES.

(New York Tribune.)

The pies, the biscuits, the what-not that mother used to make have figured in song and legend for generations, but not until recently, in Newark, did they receive legal recognition. Now some Jersey judge will have to decide whether or not Mrs. Esther Bevensee is entitled to $50,000 because on occasion her husband, Edwin, preferred his mother's pancakes to her. It is a nice question, involving one's relative appraisal of good cooking and love, but rather perplexing to one's sense of chivalry. For how could anything be more tempting than mother's pancakes or more alluring than the bride's company?

Mr. Edwin Bevensee found the counter attractions of the two as strong as the white horses which used to pull people apart to suit the whims of ancient monarchs. Time was when a son was a son until he wed, or words to that effect, but that was before sweet brides became more plentiful than the pancakes that mother used to make. Today, therefore, the competition between mother and bride appears more nearly equal.

If brides would restore their former ascendancy, let them profit from this domestic dilemma, sign of a degenerate age, and learn again to duplicate those pancakes.

GERMAN AND BRITISH WOMEN WILL MINGLE

Many Will Be Delegates to Peace Congress at The Hague.

The Hague, Netherlands, April 19.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—Many well known women from Germany and the British Isles will meet at the International Congress of Women on April 28, notwithstanding that their countries are at war, and contrary to reports that German women had decided not to attend.

A list of German and British women who have expressed their intention of being present either as individual members or as delegates of societies contains the following names:

Germany—Flaulein Anna Edinger, Frankfort-on-Main; Frau Professor Dr. Heidseick, Coblence; Frau Dr. Lung Haesch Ernst, Ganting, near Munich; Frau Margarethe L. Selenka, Berlin; Frau Marie Wegner, Breslau; Frau Johana Birnbaum-Kadisch, Magdeburg; Dr. Anita Augspurg, Munich; Fraulein Lida Gustave Heymann, Munich; Frau Frida Perlen, Stuttgart; and Frau E. von Schlumberger, Stuttgart.

British Isles—Miss Mary E. O'Sullivan, London; Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Southey, Brighton; Miss E. Sylvia Pankhurst, London; Miss C. Drake, London; Miss L. Lind-af-Hageby, London; Miss Gore-Booth, Miss Esther G. Roper, and Mrs. C. Despard, London; Mrs. Crossfield, Cambridge; Miss May Watson, Ararowan, Scotland; Miss Elizabeth Helen Ford, London; Miss Margaret Ashton, Manchaster; Miss Sturge, Birmingham; Miss E. L. Voynich, Richmond, Surrey; Miss Marie C. Stopes, London; Miss Violet Vanbrugh, London; Miss Frances E. Newton, London, with Syrian friend; Miss Norah L. Smyth, London; Miss Chrystal Macmillan, Miss Marshall, Miss Courtney, Miss Leaf, Mrs. Wilson Wilson, and Miss Isabel Ford.

As far as is known here the United States is to be represented by a large contingent of women, among whom are Miss Jane Addams, and a number of members of the peace party.

There will be a few delegates from Austro-Hungary, and a few from Belgium. Among the neutral countries, Denmark, Italy and Switzerland will be well represented. The difficulties of French women getting to the congress are almost insuperable, and it is doubtful whether that country will be represented by more than two or three delegates.

One of the resolutions to be placed before the congress will demand that the governments of the world will no longer allow private ownership of armaments.

The next monthly tea of the Lady Maccabees of Hive No. 27 will be given at the home of Mrs. Frank Kintz, 722 Third street, Wednesday afternoon. Assistant hostesses are Ladies Fullerton, Maroney, Sessler, Sharp, Shearer and Eliza Smith.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.—Adv.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look Young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

SCHOOL ENUMERATORS ARE WORKING HARD

All Persons Under Twenty-One Years Are Being Counted.

Rapid progress is being made by the school enumerators who are at work in Fort Wayne and Allen county. Teachers in the schools and the children, as well, are handing out blanks which will reach every person in the city who is the head of a family or the person eligible to enumeration.

The general belief, found by the enumerator in the past, has been that names of children over sixteen years do not need to be given as being of school age. The law, however, says that all persons between the ages of six and twenty-one are of age for enumeration purposes, although they cannot be compelled to attend school up to that age.

The authorities are especially anxious this year to include every one of school age in the enumeration, in order that Fort Wayne may get what is coming to it from the state school fund.

For this reason those who are asked for names and ages are requested to give all information desired.

All changes for the new telephone directory must be reported to the telephone office this month. 15,19,22,26

OSTRICH PLUMES CAN BE BOUGHT FOR $5

European War Eliminates Market and Costly Birds Are Sacrificed.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 19.—Want an ostrich, a full-grown ostrich, feathers and all, for $5? For the price of a pair of shoes you can become the owner of one in Arizona today.

A bird that stands seven feet high, strong enough to carry a man on his back or pull a carriage with the fastest horse, and with plumage to decorate several hats. Pretty cheap, isn't it? But it is just another one of the freak conditions caused by the war in Europe.

The largest ostrich farm in the United States is in Arizona, fifteen miles west Phoenix, on the Yuma road.

Before war was declared in Europe last August, a full-grown ostrich in America was valued as high as $150. Feathers from the birds were worth $75 a pound, London being the great feather market of the world. There are many thousands of ostriches on the farms of California and Arizona, but the American supply of ostrich feathers is so small that it has little or no effect on the world's market. South Africa, the home of the ostrich, furnished 95 per cent. of the plumes that find their way to the millinery shops.

War Hits Plume Market.

With the beginning of the European war, the London market for ostrich feathers closed down. English women abandoned luxuries, field hospital funds claiming their money instead. What little demand for a time there was for the plumes was amply supplied from the stocks at the feather shops.

The London market closed, South Africa ostrich men turned at once to New York, seeking an outlet for their plumes, and in a short time that market was glutted. Prices then took a tumble, such as they never before had known. Feathers that formerly sold at $75 a pound could be bought for $15, with little demand even at that unheard-of price.

"The slump in the plume market immediately after the beginning of the war was immediately felt in South Africa," explained a Phoenix ostrich fancier. "Although there was no market for the feathers, the birds had to be fed, and they were eating their heads off. They weren't worth their keep, and the owners began to look around for a way out from under this big expense which they had no idea how long would last. So they began to turn the ostriches loose on the plains and desert, thousands and thousands of them. If the war lasts a year there will be very few ostriches in captivity in South Africa."

WAR HAS INCREASED KAISER'S POPULARITY

Wilhelm Embodiment of All Most Admired by the German People.

London, April 10.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—"The German emperor's popularity has been undoubtedly increased with the war," writes "a neutral correspondent" to the Times from Germany. "He is considered to be the only man fit to serve as an example to his subjects and he is at the same time, the embodiment of all they most admire. His outward appearance, his mind, his piety, and almost all his undertakings are in accordance with the taste and wishes of his people.

"That he is clever, active and in many ways brilliant even his worst enemies admit; most of his subjects, in their idolatry, think him infallible. Among the military caste, however, though nothing is openly said against him he does not possess the same influence in directing strategical operations as he unquestionably had in the early stages of the war. His generals seem to have found a way of preventing him from seriously interfering with the campaign."

AT THE NEW PALACE

KEITH ALL-STAR ROAD SHOW.

Laddie Cliff and Will Oakland Big Features on Program.

The famous B. F. Kith all-star road show is on at the New Palace this week, starting this afternoon with the renowned Laddie Cliff and Will Oakland and associate singers as the two top favorites. Laddie Cliff is an English youth who but recently returned to vauedville after having spent a season in one of the principal roles with the Folies Bergere. He is back with a refreshing budget of new songs, and a new scheme of eccentric dancing. Associated with the famous lyric tenor, Will Oakland, is a male quartet of splendid voices, who sing the musical novelty "At the Club." Mr. Oakland's voice is known throughout the country to many who never have even seen him, as his Victrola records are general favorites. In the skit, "At the Club," his splendid voice is afforded some excellent opportunities in the solo work.

The Alexander Kids, a talented team of tads, will be seen in a cleverly captivating group of dainty dances that have made them famous as juvenile wonders of the first water. Charles Cartmell and Laura Harris's singing and dancing novelty will present to Fort Wayne two entertainers who have made names for themselves on extensive European tours, and who are back in America with a brand new cycle of songs and novel terpsichorean numbers. The Tuscano Brothers, battleaxe jugglers, have the acme of the art of jugglery, hurling huge ponderous battleaxes through some particularly hazardous evolutions. Billy Lloyd and George F. Britt's mixtures of vaudeville and the International Polo games on bicycles complete this splendid program.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Victor Moore in "Snobs."

"Snobs," the current Paramount attraction at the Jefferson, is a picturization of George Bronson Howard's famous satirical comedy of that name. Victor Moore, the renowned star of the speaking stage, who has appeared with most consistent success in various of the Cohan and Harris production,s plays the role of the hero, Charles Disney. Disney is a common milkman, who suddenly, through the death of a rich uncle, finds himself transformed into an English duke with a million pounds sterling at his command. A perfectly good milkman may not be a perfectly good duke—at least not until he learns to do the "Duke business" as one born to the part.

Tomorrow, the Bosworth branch of the Paramount will present a magnificent picturization of Jack London's virile drama, "An Odyssey of the North."

AT THE COLONIAL

"What Happened to Jones."

The interrogative title of this uproariously funny comedy may be answered by the assertion that Jones was the pivotical storm center of more ludicrous happenings that usually befall the average man in the course of a lifetime. The comedy in the piece is derived from the numberless events of an excruciating nature which are gone through by Jones, a traveling salesman, who poses in turn as a bishop from Timbuctoo, a teacher in a young girls' seminary, and finally he is forced, unwillingly enough, to be classed as an escaped lunatic. The fun in Broadhurst's comedy is unrelenting, and from the opening reel until the climax, matters advance toward a climax that is fairly cataclysmic in its humorous proportions.

AT THE MINUET.

"THE ENVOY EXTRAORDINARY."

A five reel feature will be shown at the Minuet today in which a great deal of the activities of the present European war will be vividly thrown upon the screen. There are of course, many pictures of this greatest of all wars but none of them are intermingled with a stirring story of life. In fact, "The Envoy Extraordinary" is a picture of life as it is in Europe together with a most exicting story that holds the undidived attention of the audience throughout. This picture will be shown today only.

Why Is It Difficult to Walk Straight With My Eyes Closed?

The reason we cannot do this always is because when we walk naturally the steps taken by our right and left feet are not of equal length. This difference in the length of the steps is due to the fact that our legs are never exactly the same length. We think of them generally as of the same length, but they are not, and this will be proven if you measure them accurately. Now, then, the longer of the legs will always take a longer step than the shorter one, and so, if our eyes are shut, we walk in circles, unless we have something to guide us. When we walk with our eyes open, we are able to overcome the tendency to walk in circles, because our eyes help the brain to direct the legs on a straight course. The matter is that our eyes are very necessary in keeping our bodies balanced on our feet, and it is very difficult to learn to keep the body balanced with the eyes closed. Now, when your eyes are closed and you attempt to walk in a straight line your body balances from one side to the other, and this fact, coupled with the first reason given, makes your course irregular. But, say you, the man on the tight-rope has his eyes bandaged and he walks a very straight line. Yes; but remember that he has a straight tight-rope to guide him, and all he needs is to maintain his balance. One can learn to walk in a straight line with the eyes closed, but it takes a good deal of practice, as you will learn if you try.

ORDAINED PREACHER TO KEEP HIS VOW

Japanese Offered Life to Religion to Recover from Sickness.

Seattle, Wash., April 15.—Carrying out the vow made twenty-five years ago by his mother that if he should recover from a serious illness she would see that his life was consecrated to the ministry, Tosulke Mayami, a Japanese, has just been ordained a minister in the Congregational church.

A few hours preceding his ordination Mayami received a letter from his mother, now past seventy, who is living in Japan, blessing him for the step he was about to take.

"My parents were not Christians at the time my mother vowed to give me over to Jesus, and I am not certain to what God she appealed, but it must have been to our God, because the prayer was answered then and is answered now," said Hayami.

The ordination was performed in the new Japanese Congregational church, and was participated in by all the Congregational ministers in Seattle. The little church was crowded, a large portion of those present being members of the Japanese congregation, which numbers fifty-nine.

All changes for the new telephone directory must be reported to the telephone office this month. 15,19,22,26

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that is absolutely unequaled. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils will open, air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough, hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.

SCHOOL IS PROVIDED FOR ONE-ARMED MEN

Heidelberg, April 1.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—A "School for one-Armed Men," with thirty-five pupils from the Nineteenth army corps, offering instruction in writing, stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping and drawing courses, and a prospective curriculum of vocational courses, has been opened here at the home of Associate Judge Leser.

The latter has placed his home at the disposition of the unique institution, and has had it fitted out as a hospital. Thirty hours of instruction are given each week, which is to be supplemented by work under the auspices of the local industrial school. Dr. Freiherr von Kuenssberg, of Heidelberg university, is in charge of instruction.

The thirty-five pupils represent thirty-one occupations and trades, including cigarmakers, railway employes, locksmiths and day laborers. All are eager to embrace the opportunity. It has been found that within only a few days the man who has lost his right arm learns to write with his left hand with considerable facility. Because of the large number of applications for admission it is planned to enlarge the school very soon.

BODY OF BOY PULLED OUT BY FISHERMAN

Inmate of School for Feeble Minded in Water Since April 4.

After being in the water since the evening of April 4, the body of Floyd Mannix, 21 years old, an inmate of the Indiana School for Feeble Minded, was taken from the St. Joe river, a mile and a half north of the institution Sunday morning. The body was found by J. L. Wensley, 436 West Fourth street, when the hook with which he was fishing caught in the boy's clothing.

Mannix disappeared from the school about 8 o'clock on the evening of April 4, and although attendants spent the entire night and the next day searching for him, he could not be found. The boy had on two suits of clothes, indicating that he intended to make his escape. In crossing the river it is believed he was seized with an attack of epilepsy and falling in the water was drowned. Another theory is that he might have stumbled and fell and, being unable to swim, met death.

The boy was brought to the Indiana School for Feeble Minded Youth from the Delaware County Ohphans' home several years ago. The only relative is an uncle, who has been notified.

Should Not Feel Discouraged.

BAN ON SUNDAY THEATERS.

Mayor Bell Will Have Nothing But Movies at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.—Mayor Bell, of this city, issued an order last night directed against Sunday theaters. While no effort will be made to stop moving picture shows and concerts, the mayor's order proposes that the police shall prevent all other forms of vaudeville in theaters on Sundays. Mayor Bell said it had been brought to his attention that a number of theaters which give vaudeville performances in connection with their moving pictures were putting on their full show on Sunday, the same as on a week day. The mayor said this practice would be stopped.

GARY IS NINE YEARS OLD.

Indiana City Holds Celebration of Its Birthday.

Gary, Ind., April 19.—Gary celebrated its ninth birthday yesterday and reviewed the almost miraculous changes in the short period. Thomas E. Knotts, the city's first mayor, walked over part of the trail, then made up of the sand dunes and marches, which he traversed when he came to the place that is now Gary, with its Broadway 100 feet wide, and paved for five miles. The city now has a population of about 40,000 and includes 52 nationalities in its foreign quarter.

The momentum of a modern twelve-car railroad train running a mile a minute is equal to that of a ton weight falling from a height of twenty-one miles.

LOCAL TAKE TWO FROM DULUTH

In No Danger of Losing at Any Time in Either Game.

Bade Myers' Cubs made it two straight from Duluth Saturday and Sunday, and had very little trouble at that. Before a very fair crowd Sunday and a scattering of early fans Saturday the local lads played a variety of ball that was Greek to the Northerners, and at no time in either game seemed to be in the least danger of a lose.

Donley and Green and Ainsworth and Long all worked well, and Beyers and Gard handled the receiving end in both games.

Saturday's Game.

In an effort to try out all his pitchers in the two games Bade Myers used two hurlers in each, and so it was that after four innings of big league pitching Donley was pulled out in the Saturday game and Green was substituted. The visitors grabbed off only one hit from Donley, and Green held them well except in the seventh, when he loosened up and let three men cross the plate. If Green hadn't rolled on the ground and thrown wildly at the plate after Murray broke a bat in this round, two of the tallies of the visitors would not have been scored. As it was he stumbled in trying to make a grab at the slow-coming ball, fell and misjudged his aim while standing on his right ear and left shinbone. The lineups and scores:

The Sunday Game.

Although Duluth opened with a run in the Sunday afternoon affair, the Cubs came back in the second with two to their favor, and although the scores held close five innings the boys from Minnesota Point hadn't a chance in the world. Four runs in the eighth put the game on ice for the locals and the visitors blanked in the final. The lineup and scores:

LOCALS TO LEAVE FOR TERRE HAUTE

Leaguers Start South Tuesday Afternoon for the Opening Game.

While the patriotic citizens of Terre Haute are singing "All Aboard for Leavenworth" Fort Wayne fans have struck up the lively tune of "All Aboard for Terre Haute," and Tuesday afternoon President William Klitzke and his aggregation of Cubs leaves for the city of Signor Donn Roberts.

Running as a counter attraction to Dr. Lyon, the locals will open the season at the town on the Wabash Wednesday afternoon for a series with the Highlanders. It is hard to dope out the opening lineup for there still hang on some of the recruits whose heads are bound to fall. Manager Myers seems to have forgotten how to rattle the can, and it certainly will be a tough job to separate the sheep from the goats at the last minute, for the crowd as it stands now is one of the best little companies of players that ever got together, without a weak sister in the lineup.

President Klitzke will go with Bade Myers and the Cubs to see the opening win, and will remain in the terrible town for the series.

Youngster Swims a Yard a Second.

She swam a yard a second.

Her name's Mabel.

She's the champion girl swimmer in America, though she is only 11 years old.

There's not a girl under 16 in the country who can cleave the water at as fast a pace as Mabel Donaldson can.

At least no girl has yet proved her ability to do so, and Mabel is fast getting a lead that none can hope to make up. A few weeks ago she held the national record for twenty yards in twenty-one seconds. Now she has just clipped another fifth from her own record at a big meet held at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.

Mabel's father, an Illinois golf professional, formerly held the swimming championship of Aberdeen, Scotland. He expects to make his daughter champion woman swimmer of America.

"It's just practice," Mabel explains. "Daddy taught me to swim almost before I could walk, and I've been at it ever since."

He will be assigned to duty at the Spy Run avenue retaining wall, where operations are again beginning. Other inspectors must be chosen shortly.

"French attacks against our positions at Combres and in the Vosges resulted in failure.

"On the eastern frontier the situation remains unchanged.

"French and British reports concerning victories in the western front are all inventions, as is sufficiently proved by the regular reports from German headquarters."

NEAR THE BREAKING POINT.

Negotiations Between Rome and Vienna at High Tension.

London, April 19.—Whether the negotiations between Rome and Vienna concerning Italy's demands for territorial concessions have been broken off remains for the moment an official secret, but it appears to be universally agreed that the tension is approaching the breaking point.

Although there has been much fighting in both the eastern and the western fields, operations on a big scale are still awaiting improvement in the weather on one side and adequate supplies on the other. Indications are, however, in both the Carpathians and Poland that the greatest battle yet to be fought is imminent and that the coming clash in the Carpathians will coincide with a great German advance from the direction of Cracow. Activities in the Dardanelles are taken to mean an important move against the Turkish positions on the straits.

VON DER GOLTZ IS NAMED.

German Field Marshal to Command First Turkish Army.

Constantinople, April 19.—Field Marshal Baron Kolmer von der Goltz has been appointed commander-in-chief of the first Turkish army.

Field Marshal von der Goltz recently returned to Constantinople from a trip to Berlin, the object of which is reported to have been to urge the German government to send an army to attack Serbia. In the early part of the war he served as military governor of Belgium and in January was sent by Germany to Constantinople to assist in directing the Turkish army which he had reconstructed in earlier years.

MR. LIEBIG WAS MISTAKEN.

To the Editor of The Sentinel—I desire to say that I have discovered that I was entirely mistaken in identifying one of the ladies in the Hilker automobile when the accident occurred early Thursday morning as Mrs. Peter Harber, of Chicago, and wish to make this correction accordingly.

J. H. LIEBIG.

TWO SURPRISE PARTIES.

The Jolly Thirty club from the A. I. U. lodge recently surprised Charles Gallogly in honor of his eighteenth birthday and a similiar event was given for Ernie and Vernie Riley in honor of their eighteenth birthdays. At the Gallogly home prizes were won by Hazel Rorbaugh, Fern Ashton, Warren Brooks, James Ulrich and Lois King and at the Riley home by Bessie King, Emma Ecker, Henry Koenline and Ernie Riley.

SENTINEL WANT ADS ALWAYS [illegible]

MUST OBEY ORDER OR BE PUNISHED

Superior Court Gives Arthur Ritter Week to Make Choice.

In the divorce suit of Zella Ritter vs. Arthur Ritter, the defendant appeared Monday morning in superior court in answer to citation for contempt in having failed to obey court's corder relating to the payment of money to the plaintiff. After making clear to Ritter that an order of court was a thing not to be trifled with, Judge Yaple gave him until April 26 to yield obedience or present himself in court to suffer punishment. Judge Yaple has sent several men to jail under circumstances that were similar.

Circuit Court Convenes.

The April term of the Allen circuit court convened Monday morning and Judge Eggeman received a number of motions and dismissed two or three actions that were pending. Neither the grand or petit jury of the circuit court has been summoned to convene at this time, but doubtless will be not long hence.

Sues for $5,000 on Contract.

In the superior court L. B. Leroy and J. M. Danby, doing business as the Leroy & Danby Cooperage company, at Proctor, Ark., have begun action against William K. Noble for $5,000 damages on a contract. The transaction involves some extensive shipments of barrel hoops.

Notes of the Courts.

The last will and testament of the late Friedrich W. Franke, of Adams township, has been filed for probate. Such money as remains in his estate after the payment of his just debts and funeral expenses is left to his children, Hermina, Lydia, William, Theodore and Adolph Franke, and all the balance, real and personal, is left the two daughters, Hermina and Lydia, share and share alike. Hermina is named executrix.

In the superior court a divorce has been granted to Edgar Coddington from Mary Coddington.

The case of Dee Weaver against Frank J. Rahe and the city of Fort Wayne for $24,000 damages was resumed in the superior court Monday morning. The defense began the presentation of testimony, having medical men as witnesses. The court has upheld the city attorney's motion that the jury be instructed to find for the city so far as the municipal corporation is concerned in the suit.

The last will and testament of the late Henry A. Futter has been filed for probate. All his realty and $1,500 cash are left to his daughter, Elizabeth Fritz, for life, the realty then to go to the testator's grandson, Edgar Heger.

In her last will and testament, just filed for probate, Lovina I. Rhine leaves her estate to her husband, if he survive her, and if not then to their two sons and two daughters.

COUNTY HEALTH REPORT.

County Health Officer E. M. Van Buskirk has filed his report for the first quarter of 1915 showing that for the period there were in the county outside the city 119 cases of whooping cough, 92 cases of diphtheria, 41 cases of scarlet fever, 31 cases of chickenpox, 28 cases of measles and three cases of smallpox. There were 135 marriages—55 in February, 45 January and 35 in March. Brides ranged in age from from 16 to 70 years.

said he saw no reason for adopting a sterner rule in criminal appeals than in vicil appeals and held where questions of law and fact were intermingled in civil cases, as here, the United States supreme court may review a state court's finding of fact.

"The single question in our mind," continued Justice Holmes, "is whether a petition alleging that the trial took place in the midst of a mob savagely and manifestly intent on a single result, is shown on its face unwarranted by the specifications, which may be presumed to set forth the strongest indications of the fact that the petitioners command. This is not a matter for polite presumptions, we must look facts in the face. Any judge who has sat with juries knows that in spite of forms they are [illegible] whose business it was to preserve not only form but substance, to have been that if one juryman yielded to the reasonable doubt that he himself later expressed in court as the most anxious deliberation neither prisoner nor counsel would be safe from the rage of the crowd we think the presumption overwhelming that the jury responded to the passions of the mob."

COURT MEANS EXHAUSTED.

Frank's Attorneys Will Now Ask Commutation of Sentence.

Atlanta, Ga., April 19.—Leo M. Frank's attorneys when informed of the decision today of the United States supreme court said they believed every means in Frank's behalf before the courts now had been exhausted. They added that they now probably would prepare a petition for presentation before the Georgia prison commission asking for commutation of Frank's sentence.

"I am very much disappointed over the supreme court's decision but I will keep up the fight," said Leo M. Frank when informed that his habeas corpus case had gone against him. He refused to add to that statement.

The mandate of the supreme court is expected to be received by the federal district court here in a few days. Upon its arrival Solicitor General Dorsey probably will request that Frank be arraigned before the Fulton county superior court for re-sentence.

velt was sitting with his back toward his opponent. To all outward appearances neither was aware the other was anywhere near.

As soon as Justice W. A. S. Andrews had ascended the bench the roll of the special panel of 75 talesmen was called and the selection of the jury began. Each side was informed by the court that they would be allowed six peremptory challenges. The talesmen were questioned by Wm. L. Barnum, Syracuse attorney for Mr. Barnes. He wanted to know whether the political prominence heretofore of either one or both of the principals would effect the decision of possible jurrors. He also asked talesmen whether they believed a man in politics might be libeled just as any other citizen. In fact, that the defendant had been president of the United States and governor of New York was also dwelt upon by the attorney in framing his questions.

Under the procedure adopted for the selection of the jurors, Mr. Barnum continued the questioning of talesmen. It was planned to have him examine 12 men and then allow counsel for Mr. Roosevelt to question them. As the examination proceeded, Mr. Barnum delved deeper into political and legislative matters asking the talesmen to what extent they had been interested in such affairs. Once during the questioning, Mr. Barnes, who had changed his seat, swung around in his chair and gazed at Col. Roosevelt for fully two minutes and then swung back to the table again and wrote a memorandum on a pad of paper. The colonel seemed to be intensely interested in the answers given by the talesmen. He leaned far across the table in front of him so as to catch every word that was said.

NOTICE.

To the Public:

An article appearing in the daily papers, in the Cour news, may be somewhat misleading.

The article referred to, is the divorce suit of Hattie B. Heffelfinger vs. John K. Heffelfinger, in which Mr. Heffelfinger is made to appear in one paper as an employee of the Hamilton National Bank, and in another as janitor. The complaint alleges habitual drunkenness, and that he spends all his money in saloons.

Mr. Heffelfinger is not an employee in the bank, neither is he the janitor. For a year or more he has run the elevator in our building, and has performed the duties assigned to him in a very satisfactory manner. At all times he has been polite and courteous to the public, sober, industrious, and attentive to his duties, and at no time has he, to our knowledge, been under the influence of liquor in any shape or form.

We voluntarily make this explanation in justice to Mr. Heffelfinger, and to correct any impression that may be gained, reflecting upon the habits or integrity of the employees in our banking office.

unaccompanied men would arrive today.

"It is my forty-ninth trip to Leavenworth with prisoners," said Mark Storen, United States marshal in charge of the party. "This is as jolly a bunch as I ever took up there."

The marshal said when the train reached Kansas City Mayor Roberts stood up in the car and strained to get a glance over the shoulders of Edward Holler, former chief of police, who was seated. "I'll see it again before you will," said Holler smilingly.

Holler is Ostracized.

During the stop of the train at Kansas City, a photographer on the platform took a flashlight picture of Edward Holler, former chief of police of Terre Haute, who was leaning out of the car window. The flash startled Lewis Nunley, assistant city engineer of Terre Haute, who received a two years' sentence.

"What's that?" he asked.

"Oh, a photographer took Ed Holler's picture," some one announced.

"Take it and put it in every newspaper in the country. Holler's a squawker," cried Nunley.

"Yes, he's a snitch," said another.

Holler, under sentence of one year and one day, sat all the way from Indianapolis on the rear seat of the car. Ostracized by his fellow travelers, Holler pushed himself as far as he could into the corner and pulled his hat down over his eyes. Not one of his companions would speak to him. They derided him because he had turned state's evidence.

Redmans Sit Together.

In one of the seats Eli Redman, judge of the circuit court, and his son, Hilton, 22 years old, sat together all the way, the father going to serve five years and the son two years.

As the guards were checking the men into line when they came off the train, Judge Redman and his son stood together but the son's name was called first and he went to the head of the line. Redman held up his hand meekly to attract the attention of the guard. No one paid any attention to him and then spoke: "Please may I go with my son?" he asked. Still no one noticed his request and he was hustled up into line. He stood there with lowered head. Dennis Shea, sheriff, would not speak to Roberts during the journey blaming the mayor for his plight.

CHEERFUL ON THE WAY.

Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—The special car carrying Mayor Donn M. Roberts and fourteen others convicted in the Terre Haute election conspiracy case arrived here at 7:30 o'clock this morning en route to the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth. The party spent one hour in Kansas City and then proceeded to Leavenworth.

No one was permitted to board the car here. When the train carrying the men came into the depot three cans of steaming coffee were taken to the coach. Then the serving of breakfast began. It consisted of the remains of a "box lunch" which was given each man when the train left Indianapolis. Officials in charge said the convicted men all were cheerful and had stood the journey well.

LEAVING INDIANAPOLIS.

Indianapolis, April 19.—With smiling countenances and with Mayor Donn M. Roberts leading the fifteen prisoners, convicted in the Terre Haute election conspiracy case and sentenced to the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, by Judge Anderson, started on the trip to prison at 1:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were due to arrive at Leavenworth at 9:54 Monday morning.

Due to the fact that the time for the departure was not made public here only a small crowd was at the station as the prisoners, each accompanied by a special deputy United States marshal, boarded the special car attached to a Pennsylvania passenger train.

While the Terre Haute men were being placed in line in the jail yard [illegible] way to prison and joined in passing good natured jokes back and forth. The prisoners were not shackled, but a guard walked beside each prisoner, accompanied him into the car and occupied the seat beside him. United States Marshal Mark Storen was in charge, and as soon as the newspaper men climbed aboard, ordered that the doors be locked.

None of the wives or relatives of the prisoners were permitted to accompany the men from the jail to the station. Many of the relatives of the men had been in the jail during the morning and several of the prisoners wore flowers on their lapels.

Six others who received prison sentences and who withdrew from the appeal early in the week, had promised Judge Anderson to start for prison not later than noon today. Since withdrawing from the appeal, the men had been at liberty at their homes in Terre Haute. The six are: Arthur Gillis, John Masselink, Joseph O'Mara, George Sovern, Joseph Strauss and Maurice Walsh, all of whom had received sentences of a year and a day in prison.

The fifteen taken to prison and the sentences they received are: Mayor Roberts, six years and a fine of $2,000; Dennis Shea, who resigned last week as sheriff of Vigo county, five years and $1,000 fine; Eli H. Redman, judge of the circuit court, five years and $1,000 fine; Edward Driscoll, assistant city engineer, three years, fine, $500; George Ehrenhardt, member of board of works, three years, fine, $500; Harry Montgomery, president board of works, three years, fine, $500; Thomas Smith, city judge, three, years, fine, $500; William Crockett, superintendent city crematory, two years, fine, $100; Hilton Redman, son of Judge Redman, two years, fine, $100; Elmer E. Talbott, city comptroller, two years, fine, $100; Lewis Nunley, assistant city engineer, two years, fine, $100; John E. Green, merchant, two years, fine, $100; Alexander Aczel, street inspector, year and a day, fine, $100; Charles Houghton, city hall custodian, year and a day, fine, $100; Edward Holler, former chief of police, year and a day, fine, $100.

It is understood that Mrs. Roberts, wife of the mayor, who spent a large part of the morning at the jail, will continue her efforts to obtain the [illegible] tion for an appeal. no bonds have been obtained.

THRONG AT TERRE HAUTE.

Terre Haute, April 19.—Long before the train, bearing Mayor Donn M. Roberts and accompanying federal prisoners reached Terre Haute, the train sheds and vicinity of the Union depot were thronged. It was estimated that fifteen thousand persons saw the train which pulled into the station with curtains drawn at all windows of the special car bearing the prisoners and guards. Just as the train pulled out the curtains were raised and Roberts and others waved good-bye to their friends.

Mayor Roberts reached through the partly open window to grasp hands of a few friends. He called to Frank B. Striley, and announced he had appointed Striley to act as treasurer of the democratic county committee, succeeding Maurice Walsh, who also was sentenced to Fort Leavenworth.

As the train passed the home of Louis Nunley, one of the prisoners, Nunley, tossed from the window a letter to his mother on which he had pinned a pink carnation which he wore from Indianapolis.

During the trip from Indianapolis Roberts, Eli H. Redman, George Ehrenhardt and Harry S. Montgomery were occupied in a game of pinochle. They resumed the game after a brief interruption in Brazil where Roberts spoke from the window to some of his friends on the platform.

Other prisoners who were permitted to return home to attend to personal business, left for Fort Leavenworth earlier in the day.

OLD NICKEL PLATE OFFICIAL IS DEAD

E. A. Miller, With Road from Its Infancy, Succumbs to Pneumonia.

E. A. Miller, superintendent of motive power of the Nickel Plate, with headquarters in Cleveland, died at his home in that city last Saturday from pneumonia, after an illness of ten days. The deceased was employed on the Nickel Plate from the time the road was opened to business up to the time of his death and was known all along the line. The greater portion of his service was in the capacity of master mechanic at Conneaut, Ohio, where he resided until ten or twelve years ago, when he moved to Cleveland to take up the duties of superintendent of motive power, succeeding John MacKenzie, who died a few weeks previous to that time. The interest displayed in his condition during his illness by offcials and employes of the Nckel Plate from Buffalo to Chicago was proof of the high regard and love for Mr. Miller entertained by all. He was a member of the Nickel Plate Employes' Veteran association and was one of the speakers at the annual meeting held in Fort Wayne three or four years ago. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon from the Congregational church in Conneaut, of which the deceased was a member many years, and arrangements are being mde to give opportunity to as many of the employes everywhere on the line to attend as can be spared from their work. For the accommodation of the employes at Fort Wayne a special car will be attached to train No. 6, which leaves the city at 2:30 Tuesday morning. At Cleveland this car will be attached to a special train and leave that city for Conneaut at 9:30 Tuesday morning. Among those from Fort Wyne who will attend the funeral will be Supt. W. F. Watterson and Supt. H. N. Williams.

E. A. MILLER.

FIVE SLIGHTLY HURT.

G. R. & I. Passenger Train Strikes a Wreck Train.

As a result of a rear end collision between a G. R. & I. passenger train and the Pennsylvania wreck train at Adams, five miles east of the city, at 1:20 Sunday morning, five people were slightly injured and an engine and a passenger car were damaged, the latter only slightly. The injured were:

C. E. Fortney, of Grand Rapids, mail clerk, elbow bruised; William Leipholz, of Grand Rapids, mail clerk, right forearm bruised; Hal Elzea, of Columbus, Ind., a passenger, gash in forehead, not serious; Mrs. H. B. McNeil, of Petoskey, Mich., a passenger, neck sprained, and Mrs. A. G. Hofstater, of 520 Madison street, nose bruised and lip cut, not serious. All of the wounded were attended by Dr. E. J. McOscar, the company's surgeon, and sent to their respective homes.

The accident was probably due to a confusion of signals. The wreck train had been a mile east of Adams, where Pennsylvania engine No. 7513, pulling westbound train No. 11, had cast a tire and was returning to the city with the disabled engine. At Adams, where the G. R. & I. strikes the Pennsylvania, the wreck crew crossed over from the westbound to the east bound tracks, to give the right of way to the G. R. & I. passenger train. The tower man failed to close the switch leading to the eastbound track and the passenger train ran into that track and crashed into the rear of the wreck train. The pilot and the smoke stack of the G. R. & I. engine, No. 12, were knocked off, a drawbar on one of the coaches was driven in and a coupling on a car of the wreck train was the only damage to equipment. The passenger train was in charge of Conductor P. Pembroke and Engineer J. R. Anderson and Fireman M. A. Coleman were in the cab. The train was running at the rate of twelve miles an hour when the collision occurred.

NINETY-ONE PER CENT. ON TIME.

Remarkable Record of Prompt Movement of Trains on Pennsy.

The Pennsylvania railroad operated 70,196 passenger trains in March and 64,067 of them—91.3 per cent.—arrived at their destinations "on time." On the New York division—that part of the railroad between New York and Philadelphia, and the division having the heaviest passenger traffic of the railroad—11,146 trains were operated and 10,166, or 91.2 per cent., of them, arrived "on time." The Pittsburg division operated 5.292 trains and 4,999, or 94.5 per cent. of them made a perfect record. On the electric line of the West Jersey & Seashore railroad, out of 2,480 trains, 98.2 per cent. arrived "on time." Three divisions, the Allegheny, West Jersey and Seashore (steam service), and the Monongahela, had more than 97 per cent. of their trains arrive "on time." The Conemaugh and Media divisions had records of 96 per cent. perfect, while the Bellwood, Tyrone, Renovo, Sunbury, Elmira, Trenton, Sckuylkill and Manhattan divisions had more than 94 per cent. of their trains arrive "on time."

Every effort is being made by the Pennsylvania railroad to expedite the movement of passenger trains so that no passenger will suffer annoyance from delays.

ENGINE BREAKS AXLE.

Accident Blocks Wabash Tracks at Hugo Several Hours.

Engine 2074, pulling a heavy Wabash freight train, broke an axle two miles west of Hugo at an early hour this morning and for awhile the track was completely blocked. A number of the men from the Wabash shops in this city were sent to the scene, with wrecking apparatus, and they succeeded in bringing the cripple into Fort Wayne without calling the wreck crew from Peru. The only passenger train delayed by the accident was No. 9, westbound, which was held up two hours. The crippled engine will be repaired in the local shops.

WILL PUSH ORGANIZATION WORK.

As a result of a recent meeting in Indianapolis of the executive committee of the district International Association of Machinists, active work in organization has already commenced. The state has been divided into four districts for organization work. Clayton H. Johnson has the Fort Wayne section, George O'Day the Indianapolis section, Ed Carbine will have the Terre Haute section and some general organizer will look after the section in the northwestern part of the state, including the cities of Hammond, Michigan City, Logansport and Lafayette. In Mr. Johnson's territory are Fort Wayne, South Bend, Garrett, Elkhart, Peru, Wabash, Kokomo, Marion and Muncie and he will make occasional visits to each.

OPEN MEETING OF ENGINEERS.

Every stationary engineer, whether a member of the union or not, is invited to the meeting at the Commercial club Thursday night to enjoy the hospitality of the union and get better acquainted with other men engaged in the same work. The early part of the evening will be devoted to speeches by E. W. Puckett, of the Fort Wayne Oil Supply company; a representative of the Dodge Manufacturing company, of the Union Steam Pump company, the Revere Rubber company and several local labor union men. Following the speaking will be a "Dutch" lunch. Similar meetings last year were productive of much good.

WILL OPEN SEASON IN MAY.

L. D. Nordstrom, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, president of the Lake James Motor Boat club, is preparing to mail to each member a list of the assignments of dock privileges at Lake James. The dock is 200 feet long and nine feet wide, with slips for each motor boat. Mr. Nordstrom is also mailing to members a book of rules for running the motor boats out on the lake. The club now has twenty-eight members.

FRED HARTMAN HERE.

Fred S. Hartman, of New York, is here for a double reason this week. He is visiting relatives and attending to business for the General Electric company. Mr. Hartman is the manager for that company of the power and mining department at its New York office. For many years he was employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works and, as usual, he was given an ovation when he appeared there this morning.

ELOPED TO MICHIGAN.

Friends of Miss Nora Kelley and Frank McGuire will be surprised to learn that they were married by Justice Weaver, at Hillsdale, Mich., April 10. They will live with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGuire, on East Taber street. Mr. McGuire is employed in the shipping department of S. F. Bowser & Co. and the bride was employed at the Wayne Knitting mills.

MOVED TO NEW YORK.

The John-Mandville company, the selling agents for the Audiffren ice machine, has abandoned its offices in this city and will hereafter transact all business from the New York office. The company maintained a clerical force of six or eight men in Fort Wayne until last week, when they transferred a part of the force to New York. The others found employment in the various shop offices in Fort Wayne.

KENNETH EARL IS DEAD.

Kenneth Earl, eight years old, who was injured when a Wabash train struck the buggy in which he was riding, with his mother, Mrs. Charles Earl, and sister, Beatrice, killing the former instantly and injuring the latter so she died an hour afterwards, died yesterday, after suffering intensely twenty-four hours. The story of the accident was published in Saturday's Sentinel.

BUSINESS BETTER IN SHOPS.

A heavy demand for small motors has put the small motor winding department at the Fort Wayne Electric works on a "double" trick, working a day and night gang. Just how long this condition will last is hard to tell, but it is hoped it will continue all summer.

STOREKEEPERS MEET HERE.

All of the division sorekeepers of the Pennsylvania Northwest system assembled here this morning to hold their monthly meeting, which will probably last until tomorrow evening. C. P. Cherry, of the Western division, is presiding at the meeting.

Business Agent E. T. Drew announces that two more master painters who did not sign the wage agreement in 1914, have done so this year. About May 1 the union will issue a list of the master painters who have signed the wage scale and those who have refused to do so. The union seems to be growing in membership, five new members being taken in at the last meeting.

As stated by the Sentinel last week would be the case, linemen commenced work of preparing for a telephone system on the G. R. & I. between Fort Wayne and Richmond, today. There are four crews at work, one starting at Fort Wayne, one at Richmond and the others at intermediate points. It is expected to have the line between Richmond and Grand Rapids in operation within two weeks.

TWO CHIMNEY FIRES.

The city fire department was called at 7:05 o'clock Monday morning to the residence of Henry Woehr, 1419 Boone street, where sparks from the chimney had set fire to the roof, causing damages amounting to $10.

After a lull of nearly four days the department was called to 625 Taylor street, where a blaze was discovered in the shingle roof of a two-story frame house. The fire originated from sparks from the chimney. The damage amounted to $15.

Hugh Gorrell, apprentice in The Sentinel's composing room, was taken seriously ill Sunday at his home in New Haven with typhoid-pneumonia. MOTORISTS FINED FOR VIOLATIONS

Lima, Ohio, Man Pays $50 and Costs for Speeding His Car.

H. H. Long paid a dollar a mile for his fifty-mile clip on the Lincoln highway, near the Four-Mile house and put in $10 extra for costs. He lives in Lima, Ohio, and it was explained Monday in the city court that he was hurrying homeward with a friend whose wife was reported dangerously ill in the Ohio town. Motorcycle Officer Dan Kintz arrested Long, who was going fifty miles an hour. No denial was made in the city court of Long's excessive speed, but the circumstances of his haste were offered in mitigation. Judge Kerr said he could make no exception to his rule of $50 and costs for violations of the speed laws, and took occasion to announce that if that penalty proved not severe enough to refrain scorchers he would raise the limit.

George W. Adams. of Bryant, Ind., paid two fines of $10 and costs each, a total of $40. for driving his car at night without a tail light and for driving without license tags. He is the man who was given an hour on his own recognizance Friday night, by Captain Richard Kelly to go get bond and then stole his car from the garage where the police had placed it and tried to get out of town. He drove to Portage avenue, left his machine at the roadside and came back to town to say farewell to his sweetheart on West Berry street. The police learned of his exploit at the garage and captured him after he had made a dash from the Berry street house.

Rudy Claymiller in Bad.

Rudy Claymiller was certified to the circuit court, having been arrested on a drunk charge. He is under suspended sentence in the circuit court for neglect of his children and leniency had been shown him that he might make good. Drink is his bane and Saturday night he was found on the street down and out.

Something in Pickle of Worley.

After taking the testimony in the case of James Worley, charged with drunkenness, Judge Kerr continued it until Tuesday morning and held Worley under $200 bond. Worley gave his wife a terrible beating Friday night and on Saturday night was waiting in a pawnshop to receive the money for some of her clothing, which he had put up, when Detective Sergeants Immel and Rundell arrested him. He evidently was preparing to leave the city. He is an incorrigible rowdy and brute and this is his third arrest within a few weeks. Mrs. Worley was badly injured by him Friday night and Judge Kerr hopes to get her testimony before he disposes of the case.

Other City Court Cases.

Vern Snyder was fined $5 and costs for assault and battery on Frank Hoy and a similar charge against Hoy was continued indefinitely. Snyder was drunk Saturday night and got into trouble at the Enterprise restaurant on Calhoun street and was put out by Hoy and his father, who run the place. Snyder tried to re-enter and was drubbed.

Guy Ladig, a youth who has been in trouble before for stealing, was certified to the circuit court on a charge of petty larceny. In default of $300 bond he went to jail. He has been stealing bicycles and several dismantled wheels were found at his home. He is suspected of wholesale operations in bicycle thefts. He pleaded guilty to the larceny charge.

Oscar Deal. an 18-year-old youth, was turned loose after a hearing on a loitering charge. He was arrested by Officer Kammer, who testified that he had trouble with Deal in trying to disperse a gang of loafers who hang out at the corner of Jefferson and Calhoun streets.

William Anderson, charged with wife desertion, was continued until Tuesday under $500 bond and the same disposition was made of George Mills, charged with neglect of his children.

The case against John Williams, charged with drunkenness, was dismissed by the prosecutor. Williams, who was a paroled prisoner from Michigan City prison and was arrested here five days after he had been given his liberty, has been taken back to that institution.

William Taylor, colored, and Harry Bessie, a white man, caught in a raid on a hobo camp several days ago and since that time on loitering charges, were turned loose.

FRISKED FOR HIS MONEY.

Joe Koscza, a Russian Pole, complained to the police Monday that after he had been flim-flammed for $2 in a card game by some other Poles two of them held him while a third went through his pockets and stole $15. He says he was roughly handled by the men. Koscza boards at 1134 Eliza street and says the robbery took place in a residence opposite. He will file an affidavit.

ESCAPED ALLEY WORKERS.

Paul Haehle, a traveling man who is a guest at the Rich hotel, reports to the police that late Saturday night he was solicited by two negro women on Montgomery street at the alley along the Craig Biscuit company's plant and that when he refused to have anything to do with them was seized. In the struggle, he says, he felt a knife rip his pocket from which one of the wenches took a purse containing $75. He wrested it away from her and the negresses fled.

KEEP URIC AICD OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to [illegible]

16,000 ATTEND THE OPENING SERVICES

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Terre Haute, Ind., April 19.—Dr. Milford H. Lyon, who since the first of this year has conducted stirring revival meetings in Fort Wayne and Tiffin, came to Terre Haute and opened a six weeks' meeting in the tabernacle Sunday. It is estimated that over 16,000 people were present at the three services of the day. The prospects for a great campaign are auspicious.

Forty automobiles were at the railroad station when Dr. Lyon arrived here Saturday, and Saturday evening at the welcome banquet tendered him over 200 of the city's prominent church workers were present. The city seems to be aroused with interest and prospects are that at the close of the tabernacle meetings Terre Haute will be known as a Christian city.

The tabernacle has a seating capacity of 6,000. The choir ampitheatre is constructed so as to seat 1,000, and all but 200 of these were filled Friday evening when the tabernacle was dedicated. Rev. A. J. Folsom, of Fort Wayne, gave the dedicatory address in which he impressed upon the minds of his listeners the chance the city now had to determine who would be the master.

One of the ministers of this city says: "In my nine years experience in the religious field at Terre Haute I never saw such unity as has been shown at the present time. With every minister and his church enlisted for the Lyon campaign, I believe not only the greatest spiritual awakening the city has ever had will be the result, but the greatest Indiana has ever known."

WANTED—[illegible]

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF LEONARD BOBAY

Neither the city police nor Sheriff A. C. Gladieux have found any clue to the whereabouts of Leonard Bobay, the young Washington township farmer, who has been missing since Friday, when he drew his accounts, amounting all told to $1,300, from the Hamilton and Old National banks and in company with a stranger disappeared from the sight of all who know him. Bobay is 30 years old and unmarried. With his brother, John Bobay, he has occupied and worked an extensive farm near Academie station. He is said to always have been everse to women and no suspicion of there being a female in the case connects itself with his disappearance. The fact that he was with a stranger gives rise to disquieting theories both for his personal safety and the security of the large sum of money he had with him when he dropped from the sight of his friends. He left home Friday morning, saying he meant to come to Fort Wayne to pay his taxes and transact other business, but he did not call at the county treasurer's office.

BOY STRUCK BY MOTOR TRUCK.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knake, 2518 Weisser Park avenue, was struck, Saturday afternoon, near his home by a motor delivery car owned by the Grand Leader department store and driven by H. E. Sutton, receiving slight injuries. The lad had been in a car driven by his uncle and alighted from it where it was standing and started for his home, when he was hit by the delivery car. The parents of the child deny the report that the little fellow was playing in the street and dodged directly in front of the car that him hi... He was attended at his home by Dr. M. F. Schick.

BALANCE AGAINST THE WORKINGMAN

Not So Well Off as a Few Years Ago, Says Federal Bureau.

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Washington, April 17.—Workingmen in the United States are considerably worse off now than they were a few years ago. The "real wages" of 1,500,000 workers declined steadily from 1907 to 1913, according to the bureau of labor statistics. According to the first tabulation of "real wages" ever made by this bureau, and now being shown by means of a graphic electric chart at the Panama-Pacific exposition, the bureau concludes that where a dollar in 1907 would buy 121 food units, in 1910 it would buy only 107, and in 1913 only 100.

This startling decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar was accomplished by a slight decrease in hours of labor, and a somewhat more marked increase in rate of wages. But the rise in food prices wiped out these advantages, and left the laborer considerably worse off in 1913 than he was in 1907. With the same tendencies at work, it is evident that he is still worse off now than he was in 1913.

These conclusions are based on all the wage reports issued by the bureau of labor statistics, and cover both the general wage and the union wage scales.

One of the first cases to be tried under the new Sherley amendment to the food and drugs act has resulted in a victory for the government, and a consequent strengthening of the hands of the officials of the department of agriculture who are trying to protect the public from false and fraudulent claims on patent medicines. The Sherley amendment was passed to patch up the hole which was punctured in the food and drugs act by the [illegible] and fraudulent, a conviction can be secured. Last week a product called Bad-Em-Salz, manufactured by the American Laboratories of Philadelphia, was declared a fraud by a jury in the United States district court. The government charged that certain statements on the printed matter were false and fraudulent, in that it claimed to dissolve gall stones, to head off gastritis and to cure diabetes. The defense failed to produce a single physician to substantiate the claims of this "medicine" except the manufacturer himself.

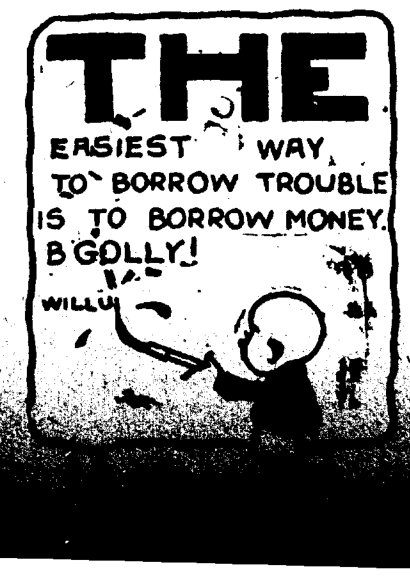
President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, is in favor of adequate national defense. In answer to questions propounded to him, Mr. Gompers said: "Organized labor has every reason to realize that we have not yet reached the millenium. Experience in industrial affairs has taught workers that absence of the means for defense and self-protection invites attack and injustice. The power to enforce right is a tremendous element in establishing justice. Under present conditions it would be suicidal for any one nation to begin disarmament. The power of self-defense, even though not exercised, is the greatest force for the maintenance of justice and national rights. Anti-militarism does not mean to give up the right of national defense." Mr. Gompers expressed himself in favor of the Swiss or Australian system and laid emphasis on democracy in the army.



NEW LABOR UNION.

The Brotherhood of Hod Carriers and Building Laborers is a new labor organization which had its first meeting Saturday night and applied for charter. There were eighteen signatures to the roll membership Saturday night and this number will be doubled, it is believed by the men active in the organization of the new union before the charter is closed. Attendants of lathers, plasterers and brick and stone masons are eligible to membership, and there are over 100 in the city.

WILL BE INVESTIGATED.

Frank Penninger, who gives his residence as Toledo, was arrested by Detective Sergeants Spillner and Junk, Monday morning, and locked up at police headquarters on a loitering charge. He will be investigated. Penninger has been running in and out of Fort Wayne at short intervals for some time and appears to have no business. He admits he has been in trouble in Toledo.

WILLIAM CARTER IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

health and old age forced him to retire from active work. His two sons conducted his business for him.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 19.—Active general buying today carried wheat prices up with a rush. On the bulge, free selling took place but as soon as a break occurred the demand increased and a sharp rally followed. The market was extremely nervous. After opening 1c to 2¼c higher the market here reacted to a moderate extent and then promptly advanced again. Trading in corn showed a much larger volume than has recently been the case. The opening, which varied from ⅝c to ⅛c to 1c up, was succeeded by some additional upturns.

Oats rose with other cereals. Selling pressure was light.

Ascending values for grain and hogs lifted provisions. Demand though was only fair.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 19.—Heavy trading in stocks was renewed today but last week's sensational movements were lacking. [illegible] rose 1½, New York Central led the railways with a 2½ point gain, St. Paul, B. & O., New Haven, Union Pacific and L. & N. rose one to two points. Amalgamated Copper, American Locomotive were heavy but Amalgamated soon made up its loss. Mexican Petroleum was strongest of the specialties, gaing 7½ points.

Activity abated somewhat towards midday but sales in the first hours were estimated at 800,000 shares. Railway investment issues made further headway while industrials were offered with greater freedom. Trading in steel continued in enormous volume but the stock failed to hold its rise, which was accepted as proof of persistent selling. Demand for stocks was greatest among brokers with western connections. A formidable list of declines included some of last week's conspicuous specialties, New York Airbake yielding several points. Free absorption of New York Central debentures sixes was the feature of the bond market.

WILL ADVISE PUBLIC ON ACTION OF BOARD

If Report on Canal is Rejected Promoters Can Take an Appeal.

Members of the army board who were to have been here Monday to pass on the report of Captain Lewis H. Watkins on the survey for the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal are not coming until Monday, April 26, according to word received Sunday by Captain Watkins.

Much interest is being taken in the coming of the army board by promoters of the proposed waterway. Before they leave it will be announced to a certainty whether Captain Watkins' report is to be accepted or rejected. If unfavorable action is taken then those interested in the project will be given an opportunity to appear before the river and harbor board at Washington, D. C., and present reasons why in their opinion the canal should be constructed.

Although no information has been given out by members of the government forces working on the survey, it is believed that the southern or Taylor route will be the one that will be selected by the army board. It is contended that the southern route is the most feasible. Members of the Chicago Association of Commerce are anxious that the southern route be selected. It makes no difference to local enthusiasts, however, for the reason that Fort Wayne is on both the proposed routes.

LOS ANGELES POLICE HEAD GOES ON TRIAL

Sebastian Calls Charges by Girls Plot to Ruin Mayoralty Chances.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 19.—Charles Sebastian, candidate for mayor and chief of police until he was suspended at his own request ten days ago, was to be placed on trial today in the superior court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Edith Zerkin, a minor. He is a joint defendant with Mrs. Lillie Pratt, the half-sister and guardian of the Zerkin girl. The grand jury indictment accuses them of subjecting Miss Zerkin to indignities and to scenes tending to subvert her morals.

Sebastian also is under indictment charged with contributing to the delinquency of Victoria Desparte and Cecile Livingston, wards of the juvenile court. Sebastian and his counsel, Earl Rogers, jointly were indicted on a charge of attempting corruptly to influence the grand jury in its investigation of the stories told by these girls.

Sebastian asserts the accusations of the Desparte and Livingston girls were the outcome of a plot to ruin his chances for mayor at the primary election May 4.

SENTENCES GIVEN YOUNG ANARCHISTS

New York, April 19.—Frank Abarno and Carmine Carbone, anarchists, who made and set a bomb in St. Patrick's cathedral March 2, when hundreds were worshipping within the edifice, were sentenced today to serve not less than six years nor more than 12 in Sing Sing prison. Abarno and Carbone were found guilty by a jury last week. The detection and conviction was due to the detective work of a young Italian policeman, Amedio Polignani, who left the police school for recruits, posed as an anarchist, won the prisoners' confidence and as a supposed fellow-anarchist, followed every move in the conspiracy, keeping police headquarters advised almost daily during the months of his investigation.

SHARP FIGHTING IN CONQUERED KINGDOM

Berlin Refutes Claims of Important Gains by Kitchener's Men Given Out in Paris

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The British army has begun another drive at the important section of the German line which holds conquered Belgium. Sharp fighting occurred yesterday in Belgium and the official French report of today states that the British captured 200 yards of German trenches, retaining their position in the face of several counter attacks.

The statement from Berlin, however, says the British were ejected from minor positions they had taken from the Germans and that British attacks near Ypres broke down, with heavy losses.

The French are again on the offensive on the eastern end of the line and substantial progress in Alsace is announced at Paris. The Berlin report asserts that French onslaughts near Combres and in the Vosges failed.

Lieut. Roland Garros, one of the best known French aviators, whose exploits during the war won him fame, has been captured by the Germans.

The authenticity of the official French and British war reports is challenged by the German war office, which characterizes as inventions their claims to victories. These claims, it is said, are disproved by the official German statements.

Information has reached Petrograd that the Austrian attempts to gain position recently captured by the Russians have been abandoned.

Paris, April 19.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities which read:

"British troops yesterday captured in Belgium, near Zwartelen, 200 yards of German trenches. These they have retained in spite of several counter attacks.

"We have been successful on both banks of the river Fecht, in Alsace, and our advance is being pressed forward on the north bank. We have gained possession of the summit Burgkorpfeld, to the southwest of Schilleckerwassen, which directly commands the valley. On the south bank in the region of Schnefanrieth, we have made notable progress, our troops marching from the south to the north in the direction of the Fecht and Metzerol, which is south of Colmar. In this district we made an important gain with the occupation of elections, the northernmost height of which commands the course of the Fecht in front of Burgkorpfeld.

"In the course of this action we captured a division of mountain artillery, two cannon of 74 millimetres calibre and two machine guns.

"The German aeroplanes which flew over Belfort recently, dropped four bombs. These did some damage to two hangars and set fire to four chests of

FAMOUS FRENCH AVIATOR TAKEN

Lieut. Garros, Known in U. S., Captured by Germans in Belgium.

Berlin, April 19.—By Wireless to Sayville.—The report on the progress of hostilities given out today by German headquarters that Lieut. Roland G. Garros, the famous Frenc haviator, has been made a prisoner by the Germans, near Inglemunster, Belgium, thirty-seven miles north of Courtrai.

Lieut. Garros is well known in the United States, having flown in many competitions in this country. Since the beginning of the war he has been among the most intrepid and daring of the French military airmen. His latest exploit was at Dunkirk, three days ago, when he shot dead in the air the aviator and the observer of a German aeroplane. He went out against this machine alone, and as his machine was the faster he was able to gain an advantageous position from which he fired with fatal precision. Two of Garro's bullets took effect and the German machine crashed to earth. Both the aviator and the observer had been shot dead.

Garros was born of French parents at Capetown, Union of South Africa, in 1885.

MAYOR'S SECRETARY BACK.

D. C. McCarthy, private secretary to Mayor Hosey, has returned from Chicago, to which city he was called last week to furnish his deposition in a suit against the Illinois Central railway.

Many Turn Out to Oppose New School

About one hundred opponents of the proposed new school building in Washington township to take the place of the old Scarlett school recently destroyed by fire, attended the hearing Monday court house before D. O. McComb, county superintendent. It is not likely that the county superintendent will give a decision on the proposition for several days.

A remonstrance containing 304 signatures of voters and taxpayers in Washington township was presented to the county superintendent some days ago remonstrating against the proposed new building, not so much because of a new building which it is contended is needed, but in opposition to the centralization plan. Under the consolidation scheme proposed by Trustee Leonard Stolte, a number of the schools in the township would be abolished.

The Remonstrance.

The remonstrance presented to the county superintendent follows: "We, the undersigned residents, parents, voters and taxpayers of Washington township, Allen county, by way of petition and remonstrance, beg to inform you that we respectfully remonstrate against the erection, construction or establishment of a vocational graded or combined vocational, graded and common school in Washington township, Allen county, for the reason that we deem the expenses and outlay therefor to be far in excess of any benefits that could be derived therefrom and the additional reasons that no such school is of sufficient use in the township to warrant the high expense of constructing the same and the outlay of $25,000 is far in excess of the necessitation of such school in our township."

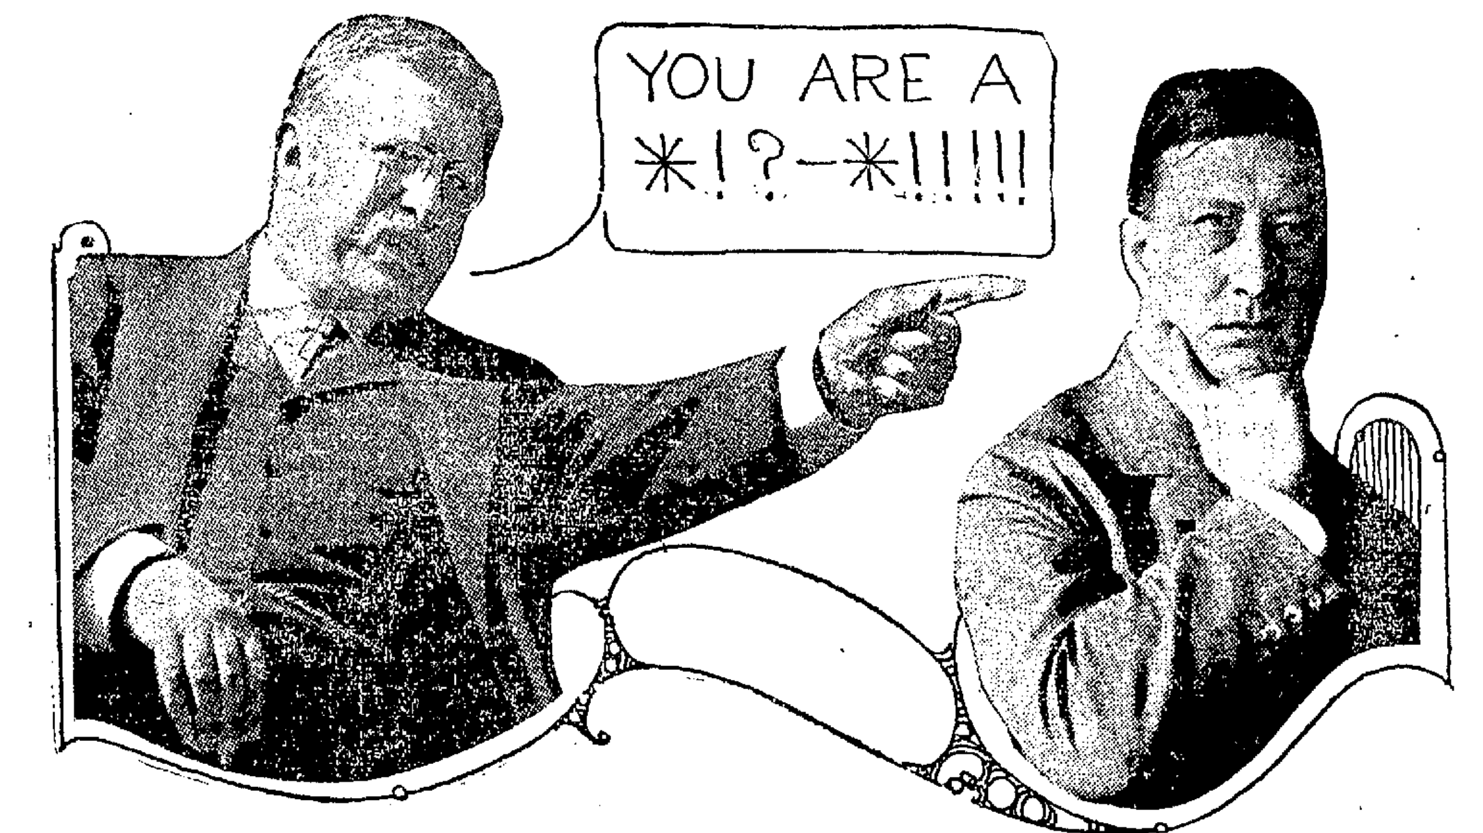
May Take Appeal.

In the event that the county superintendent decides in favor of the new school building an appeal will probably be taken to the state superintendent of schools at Indianapolis and if this cannot be done, then, according to many of the remonstrators, an injunction suit will be filed i the circuit court in an effort to prevent the appropriation of the money necessary for the construction of the building.

The remonstrators were represented at the hearing Monday afternoon by Attorneys Belot, Dreibelbiss and Meyers, while Trustee Stolte and members of his advisory board were represented by Attorneys Emrick, O'Rourke and Harris.

The feeling in Washington township is intense and the county superintendent's decision is awaited with much interest

TWO BIG FIGURES IN LIBEL SUITS—T. R. AND BOSS BARNS.



The $50,000 libel suit filed by William Barnes, former republican state chairman of New York, against Colonel Roosevelt, is the result of charges made during the last campaign by Colonel Roosevelt to the general effect that Barnes and his "sub-bosses" were secretly hand in glove with democratic bosses in corrupt politics in New York.

WITHIN WALLS OF U. S. PRISON

Gates of Leavenworth Bastile Close on Terre Haute Crowd.

ROBERTS, SMILING, LEADS THE FIFTEEN

Convicted Men Will Get Places as Clerks and Orderlies.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 19.—The special car carrying Mayor Donn M. Roberts and fourteen others convicted in the Terre Haute election conspiracy case, arrived at the United States penitentiary at 10:35 this morning. The trip to prison began at Indianapolis at 1:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

When the Missouri Pacific "Colorado Flyer" approached the prison yard, the car containing the Terre Haute party was cut off and a special engine pushed it through the big iron gate into the track on the prison property. Another gate swung open and the car was brought within a few feet of the prison door. There was a momentary delay as Warden Thomas W. Morgan and other prison officials conferred with the government officers on the train.

File Down Car Steps.

Then the little procession of convicted men began to descend from the car steps and they shook hands with the guards who had made the trip with them. As they walked two by two toward the office of the captain of the day watch they talked among themselves in subdued tones. They appeared cheerful. Captain J. M. Purcel, acting deputy warden, received the prisoners. After their names and addresses and other prison information had been given and their valuables had been placed in separate envelopes, the men went to the office of the prison physician, where each submitted to a physical examination. Then they were photographed and their Bertillon measurements and finger prints were recorded. They were permitted to retain many small articles such as brushes, handkerchiefs and personal keepsakes. After the "dressing in" process had been completed Mayor Roberts and his assistants entered the dining room, where they partook of their first meal in prison.

Finding Tasks for Them.

Warden Morgan said it had not been determined what tasks would be assigned the men. Places probably will be found for them as clerks and orderlies. They will begin tomorrow. The prison already is overcrowded and for months it has been necessary to care for new prisoners in barracks and dormitories. There are only 420 cells and until the completion of the east main cell wing the Terre Haute men probably will be housed at various places in the institution. At first they must go to regular cells to spend their first day.

The new charges will be assigned as "first grade" prisoners. This grading permits them to receive and answer letters and relatives may visit them every two weeks. Joseph Strauss, one of the six prisoners permitted to make the trip unaccompanied, arrived shortly before the others. Strauss said the other

Circus Herd Breaks Away from Winter Quarters and Invades Peru.

Peru, Ind., April 19.—A herd of elephants, a part of a circus, broke away from the winter quarters today and reached Peru before the keeper was able to corral them.

The elephants crossed the Mississinewa river twice, tore down a heavy stone fence in front of James Tinckum's house and dashed across a field toward the Wabash river. They were headed off and when they reached the road again they upset two circus wagons loaded with seats.

Keeper Dunlap blocked the road with his horse and the beasts stopped immediately.

COURT RESERVES THAW DECISION

New York, April 19.—Supreme Court Justice Hendrick reserved decision today on the application of counsel for Harry K. Thaw for a jury trial to determine Thaw's sanity. He requested counsel to submit briefs and announced that he would return his decision before Thursday.

That date was fixed for the re-appearance of counsel before him on the writ of habeas corpus upon which the application was based. If his decision favors Thaw's lawyers, a date for trial will be fixed. If trial is denied Thaw's attorneys stand ready to call witnesses in support of their contention for the decision of the court in person unaided by a jury. The point at issue between Thaw's counsel and attorneys for the state was whether the court had an inherent right, on a writ of habeas corpus to grant a jury trial.

This proceeding is independent of Thaw's appeal from a recent decision of the appellate division ordering his return to Matteawan asylum.

Death followed an illness of several months' duration. In November, 1914, he suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time his health has been very poor.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Commercial club Monday afternoon arrangements were made for the taking of moving pictures of scenes along the Lincoln highway and also of Fort Wayne. These scenes are to be shown in all the cities along the thoroughfares between New York and San Francisco and inasmuch as Fort Wayne is the third largest city along the highway, the Commercial club is anxious that the city make a good showing.

The date for the celebration will be determined by the time the moving picture men can be here. Governor Samuel M. Ralston will be the principal speaker.

The following new members were voted into the club: L. A. Ivins, C. C. Hewitt and Harry J. Collier, jr., and the following non-resident members: H. J. McKinney, Indianapolis; H. H. McNamee, Wabash, and B. F. Sleasman, Columbia City.

FINAL COURT HOPE IS GONE

Only Pardon Board Can Now Save Leo Frank From Death Penalty.

APPEAL DISMISSED BY SUPREME COURT

Declares Man Enjoyed All His Legal Rights in Georgia Courts.

Washington, April 19.—Leo M. Frank, the Brooklyn man under death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, an Atlanta factory girl, lost another step in his fight for life in the supreme court of the United States today. In a decision to which Justices Holmes and Hughes dissented the court dismissed Frank's appeal from the federal court of Georgia, which refused to release him on a writ of habeas corpus.

Frank contended that alleged "mob violence at his trial and the fact that he was absent from the court room when the jury returned its verdict had removed it from the jurisdiction of the Georgia court.

The court declared Frank had enjoyed all his legal rights in the Georgia courts. Seemingly no other avenue of escape from the death penalty is open to Frank through the courts. The state pardon officials might relieve him.

Justice Pitney's Decision.

Justice Pitney, in the majority decision, stated that the obligation rested upon the supreme court to look through the form and into the very heart and substance of the matter, not only of the averment in Frank's petition, but in the trial proceedings in the state courts themselves.

"The petition contains a narrative of disorder, hostile manifestations and uproar, said the justice, "which, if it stood alone and were to be taken as true, may be conceded to have been inconsistent with a fair trial and impartial verdict. But to consider this as standing alone is to take a wholly superficial view, for the narrative is coupled with other statements from which it clearly appears that the same allegations of disorder were submitted first to the trial court and afterwards to the supreme court of Georgia as a ground for averting the consequences of the trial, and these allegations were considered by those courts successively at times and places and under circumstances wholly apart from the atmosphere of the trial and free from any suggestion of mob domination or the like.

"The facts were examined by these courts upon evidence submitted on both sides and both courts found Frank's allegations to be groundless except with respect to a few matters of irregularity not harmful to the defendant. This court holds that such a determination of the facts cannot, in this collateral inquiry be treated as annulity."

Justice Holmes Dissents.

Justice Holmes based his dissent largely on the ground that the finding of the state supreme court on the existence of mob violence at a trial is not binding on the United States supreme court as was held by the majority. He

NOW AT WORK GETTING JURY

Barnes vs. Roosevelt Libel Action Goes to Trial at Syracuse.

EACH FOE IGNORES OTHER'S PRESENCE

Vast Throng Gathers to Hear Case Against Ex-President.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 19.—Twelve men satisfactory to counsel for Wm. Barnes in the suit for alleged libel against Theodore Roosevelt asking $50,000, were selected during the opening session of the trial in the supreme court here today. The Barnes attorneys used up for their allotted six peremptory challenges before twelve men they decided were satisfactory were in the jury box. Col. Roosevelt's lawyers expected to begin their examination of the prospective jurors at the afternoon session of the court.

Mr. Barnes and Col. Roosevelt sat at adjoining tables, but neither paid any attention to the other.

The room was crowded to the doors and outside the court house a great crowd of curious persons was kept in line by policemen awaited an opportunity to get into the room.

Examination of talesmen in the special panel of 75 called for the case began as soon as Justice Wm. S. Andrews ascended the bench and opened court.

It had become known in Syracuse that after the lawyers, talesmen and reporters had been seated less than fifty spectators could be accommodated. Consequently those most anxious to secure seats in the court room appeared early. Mr. Barnes upon his arrival here last night held a conference with his attorneys in a hotel. Col. Roosevelt spent the night at the home of his friend, Horace Wilkinson.

The most elaborate preparations were made to handle the crowd at the court house. The court room was isolated from the rest of the building by boarding up the corridors approaching it. In these partitions small doors have been cut. About fifty deputy sheriffs and policemen were on hand to preserve order.

Col. Roosevelt arrived at the court house before his opponent. He wore a large black felt hat, pulled down well over his eyes. The colonel stopped in the corridor outside the court room and greeted several friends. Then he went in the room and took a seat at the table reserved for his counsel. When Mr. Barnes arrived in court he took a seat at his counsel's table. Col. Roose-

MADE OUT OF WHOLE CLOTH, SAYS TUMULTY

Washington, April 19.—Published reports that Wm. F. McCombs would resign as chairman of the democratic national committee drew the following formal statement today from Secretary Tumulty at the white house:

"The story appearing in the morning papers of Mr. McCombs' resignation and my selection to succeed him as chairman of the national democratic committee is made out of whole cloth and is the gossip of persons whose purpose is to make trouble and create discord within the ranks of the party."

Other reports have been to the effect that Homer S. Cummin, vice chairman of the national committee, would succeed Mr. McCombs in case he resigned.

HURL MAIN FORCE AGAINST RUSSIANS

London, April 19.—Abandonment by the German general staff of plans for a general offensive in France in inferred in information received from there. It is said this decision is indicated by official communications to the Italian cabinet as well as by statements of Germans in official circles and that hope of penetration further into France has been put aside.

A dispatch from Geneva gives the impression that the Austrians and Germans have decided to concentrate their energies on the eastern campaign. It is said that at council of war presided over by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, it was determined to transfer the Austrian heavy artillery now before Verdun to Poland and to send back to Cracow, western Galicia, the Hungarian cavalry now on the western front.

The situation in the east is still to be cleared up. Confident assertions from Berlin last week that the Russian advance in the Carpathian region had been halted are offset by the claim of the Petrograd war office that the principal chain of mountains, comprising a 75-mile section of the front, is now in possession of the Russians and that 70,000 Austrians have been captured in the last few weeks. It is said in Petrograd that the movement toward the interior of Hungary will be resumed after the troops have been rested and reinforced. The Austrian war office, however, maintains that the Austro-German forces are gaining further victories.

Count Alvaro De Romanons, former premier of Spain, has made a public statement that a "solemn declaration" should be made by Spain to show where her sympathy lies in the war without violating her neutrality. He pointed out that Spain's relations with the triple entente consisting of Great Britain France and Russia, had been more and more friendly of recent years.

British Lose Submarine.

The British, as an offset to their success in destroying a Turkish torpedo boat which attacked the transport Manitou off Chios yesterday, lost the submarine E-15, which while carrying out a difficult reconnaissance in the Dardanelles mine field, ran aground on Kephez Point, the crew being made prisoners.

According to the Turkish report seven of the crew are missing.

An official statement from the British admiralty gives the substance of a further report concerning the loss of life aboard the transport Manitou, which was attacked by a Turkish torpedo boat in the Aegean sea.

The report shows that twenty-four men were drowned, instead of one hundred, as first reported, and that twenty-seven others are missing. The transport itself was not damaged.

WELL KNOWN JEWELER DIES AT SANITARIUM

E. G. Trenkley Expires at Battle Creek After a Short Illness.

Eugene G. Trenkley, 38 years old, a well known business man of Fort Wayne and a member of the firm of Trenkley & Koerber, jewelers, died Sunday evening at 9 o'clock at the Kellogg sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich. Mr. Trenkley had gone there four weeks ago for treatment, following a general breakdown of his health. The news of his death was received late Sunday night from Mr. Koerber, and comes as a great shock to every one who knew him.

EUGENE G. TRENKLEY.

Mr. Koerber, his partner, received word Sunday morning that Mr. Trenkley was in a serious condition. This was the first time that hope had been given up for his recovery and Mr. Koerber hurried to Battle Creek in an automobile. Mrs. Trenkley, formerly Miss Emma Bulger, whom he married in December, 1913, had gone with him to the sanitarium and was at his bedside when the end came.

The deceased was a son of the late Celestine Trenkley, a pioneer jeweler of this city. Following the death of his father he took complete charge of his father's affairs and continued in success. As a member of the Commercial club he was active in all of its affairs and was identified with every movement of advancement in Fort Wayne.

Mr. Trenkley died just three months later than his mother, Mrs. Emily Trenkley, but surviving he leaves the following brothers and sisters: Edward and Arthur Trenkley, of Minneapolis; Theodore and Miss Edna Trenkley and Mrs. T. H. Kimmel, of Fort Wayne.

Mr. Koerber and the widow left Battle Creek with the remains at noon Monday and will arrive in this city at 7 o'clock.

ENDS HIS OWN LIFE AFTER WIFE'S DEATH

Tilted Head of Reuter's Telegram Company Dies a Suicide.

London, April 19.—Baron Herbert De Reuter, managing director of Reuter's Telegram company, was found dead yesterday at his home near Reigate, Surrey. A discharged revolver was found near his body and the authorities declare there is little doubt he committed suicide. Baron De Reuter was prostrated by the death of his wife last Thursday. Her body is still in the home awaiting interment. Their only son is in the army.

Baron Augustus Julius Clemens Herbert de Reuter was born March 10, 1852. He was educated at Harrow, Oxford and Paris. His wife, whom he married in 1876, was a daughter of the late Robert Campbell of Basco pary, Berkshire. Besides the son and heir, who is in the British army, they are survived by a daughter who is the wife of J. W. E. J. Douglas. Baron de Reuter succeeded to the title upon the death in 1899 of his father, who was created a baron of the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha in 1871. Royal license for permission to use the title in England was granted in 1891 by Queen Victoria.

The first baron was the founder of Reuters Telegram company now one of the leading news gathering organizations of the world. In 1851 when the cable was laid between England and France the headquarters of the company were transferred to London.

SEEK RIGHTS FOR JEWS IN WAR ZONE

Movement to Secure Simple Justice Inaugurated in New York.

New York, April 19.—The extension of a movement to obtain equal rights for Jews in all beligerent countries was inaugurated here today as the result of a meeting last night of 300 delegates composing the National Workmen's committee on Jewish rights. Jewish labor organizations having a membership of 300,000 are represented in this committee, it is claimed. One of the main purposes is to obtain equal rights for Jews in Russia, but A. I. Shiplikoff, secretary of the committee, said conventions would be held throughout the world in a universal equal rights movement of the Jewish masses.

Promoters of this idea expressed the hope that parties of Europe will adopt the demands of the Jews in warring countries to be placed in equality with all other citizens. It was asserted that a demand would be made for Jewish representation in the peace congress of Europe when the war is ended.

$16,000,000 WILL SUIT IS UNDER WAY

Further Chapters in Contest Over Campbell Estate at St. Louis.

St. Louis, April 19.—Trial of the suit against the will of the late James Campbell, traction magnate, was scheduled to begin in the circuit court here today. An estate estimated at $16,000,000 is involved.

Campbell's will left his entire estate in equal shares to his widow and Lois Campbell, to whom he referred as his daughter. After their death and the death of any heir which Mrs. Burkham might leave the entire estate will go to St. Louis university. Both Mrs. Campbell and Burkham will appear in court.

Many thousands of dollars already have been spent in taking depositions concerning the parentage of Mrs. Burkham. The contestants' strongest witness it is stated will be Mrs. Edith Blair, by whose testimony they will attempt to prove that Lois Campbell Burkham is the daughter of a Mrs. Hicks, now dead, who was a stepdaughter of Mrs. Blair and that Mrs. Hicks' child was adopted by the Campbells and is therefore entitled to a half share of the estate.

ONLY SALVAGE WORK CARRIED ON BY JAPS

Turtle Bay Rumors Set at Rest by Commander Irwin's Report.

Washington, April 19.—Any doubt that may have existed in the minds of administration officials as to the purpose of Japanese operations in Turtle bay, Lower California, it was believed here today, had been set at rest by the report of Commander Noble Irwin, of the cruiser New Orleans that there were no indications of any activity except salvage work on the stranded cruiser Asama.

Commander Irwin had been sent to Turtle bay by the navy department to investigate newspaper reports that Japan had established a permanent naval base there. Officials all along had expressed disbelief in the reports that Japan had intended permanent occupation.

The Asama has been aground in Turtle bay since December and reports had said that the presence of British warships was being used as a cloak for establishing a base.

BENZONIA PRODUCES A MARVELOUS MULE

"Wink" Too Smart for the Other Animals in Barn; Gets All Their Feed.

Benzonia, Mich., April 1[illegible].—Jim Kibbey swears he has the smartest mule in the southern peninsula of Michigan. The mule just has been exposed by accident after fattening up for two months at the expense of Jim's absent-mindedness.

Jim has about fifteen head of horses and mules this spring in his feed barn. He is known as the most absent-minded fellow in the county. He forgot so often whether or not he had fed the stock that he had to put a clock in the barn and feed exactly at 6 o'clock morning and night.

In feeding he used to forget which manger he had poured the chop feed into so some of the animals got two feeds and some got none. To prevent this he carried a piece of chalk and as soon as he fed one animal he chalked up a mark so he wouldn't repeat. He noticed that Wink, the big one-eye roan mule, was getting fat, but thought nothing of it until last week.

He poured a feed of oats into Ben's manger, and chalked up a mark. A minute later the mark was gone and he got curious. Next feeding time he watched Wink. As soon as the feed was poured into the manger and Jim's back was turned Wink stuck his head over the manger and licked off the chalk mark so as to get another feed.

Jim thought that was a good joke on him and kept watching. Yesterday he discovered that Wink is in the habit of reaching up with his nose and turning the hands of the clock to 6 o'clock along about five and trying to hurry up feeding time by an hour.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

DEATH CAUSES PUBLIC SORROW.

Columbia City Schools Close for Funeral of Teacher.

Columbia City, Ind., April 19.—The public schools of this city were closed today out of respect for Prof. Orval L. Pence, director of manual training, whose death occurred in the Lutheran hospital at Fort Wayne following an operation. The funeral was arranged to take place at his late residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with Rev. W. E. Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment will be made in the Blue River cemetery. The pall bearers chosen were from the faculty of the schools as follows: Superintendent J. C. Sanders, Fred Musselman, R. G. Schaeffer, T. B. McGuire, Herbert Ihrig and Firmer Born. Members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, of which the deceased was a member, were chosen as an escort of honor. Few deaths in this city have caused sorrow more general and sincere. Prof. Pence was a young man of high character and companionable qualities and possessed ability of a high order. He was born in Smith township, this county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Pence, September 21, 1883. He attended the public schools of his township, was graduated in 1905 from the Columbia City high school. After teaching school in the townships of the county for a time he completed a course at Valparaiso university and the State Normal school at Terre Haute. Seven years ago he came to this city and had since been engaged in different departments of the schools. He was married in June, 1913, to Miss Mayme Flora, who survives him.

VICIOUS HOG ATTACKS BOY.

Warsaw, Ind., April 19.—Wilbur, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morrison, who live on the farm of Dr. W. L. Hines, just north of the city, narrowly escaped death when he was attacked by a maddened hog at the slaughter house of Jack Robinson.

L. H. Bricker, of Oswego, driving near the slaughter house, saw a dog fighting a pig and then saw a boy in the midst of the struggle. He urged his horse into a run and by running from the road to the slaughter house, arrived just in time to rescue the little boy. The faithful dog, which was risking its own life to save that of its master, was almost worn out and in a few minutes more the pig would probably have reached the child. As it was the little boy was uninjured.

NEGLIGENCE IS CHARGED.

Topeka, Ind., April 19.—The Topeka opera house, constructed at a cost of $10,000, was totally destroyed in a fire which for a time threatened the destruction of a number of other buildings in the downtown district and dwellings over the town. The loss was partially covered by insurance. The fire is said to have resulted from the negligence of an employe at the opera house who had placed inflamable scenery near a register on the stage, which caught on fire. The building was known as Sycamore Hall and was completed in 1905. Straus Brothers of Ligonier, Andrew Carnegie and Lyman Babcock, of this place, furnished the funds to construct the playhouse, which has been donated to the Topeka Literary society.

The trouble arose over differences in the school between the teacher and two sons of the defendant.

Max Turned Trick, But Got Pictures

Max Asher sent a message to the German-American society recently to the effect that Count Van Gulden would arrive in New York at a certain hour. A large delegation of German citizens was waiting at the ship landing to greet him and Max, made up as the count, walked smilingly down the gangplank and proceeded to hearty handshakes with the Germans.

The camera man took the scene and thanks to Asher's clever ruse, true color was added to a moving picture.

SUNDAY GREAT DAY FOR PEDESTRIANS

Many Take Advantage of Warm Breezes to Be Out-of-Doors.

With the weather the warmest it has been since last fall, the streets of the city were thronged with pedestrians, automobiles and vehicles of every description throughout the entire day Sunday. The thermometer registered 72 degrees at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, which, according to Observer H. T. Collman, was the warmest period of the day.

The banks of the rivers were lined with fishermen from morning to night and many took advantage of the opportunity to visit the parks for the first time this season. Cars were run to Robison park every hour during the afternoon for the first time this year and although the park will not be officially opened until the first Sunday preceding Decoration day, there were hundreds of visitors there Sunday.

It was also a great day for walking. A party of young people walked from Fort Wayne to New Haven Sunday afternoon, not to establish any record, but just for the sport of it. Those in the party were: Esther McFagan, Esther Thompson, Bernedette Hayes, Mary Miller, Amelia Brown, Marie Grimme, Josephine Hoffman, Bertha Whitney, Edith Smith, Marie Offerle, Joseph Zickgraf, Julius Krause, Frank Klodzinska, Kenneth Jautz, Paul Wyss, Noah Wilber, Lawrence O. Offerle, Earl Henderson and Anthony J. Offerle.

Another crowd of young people walked to New Haven Sunday afternoon. In this party were the following: Katherine Klemm, Margaret Oakes, Ethel Lehr, Ethel Morris and Celia Ramer.

Student at New York University, an Oriental, Conceived Machine.

New York, April 19.—The first Chinese typewriter has been invented by a student in New York university, Heuen Chi. It makes 4,200 characters. The inventor believes that with practice a speed of forty words a minute may be obtained—which is quite good for Chinese.

The machine has only three keys. One is a back spacer, another the space key and the third the key with which all the 4,200 characters used are struck. The characters are made up of combinations of "radicals," or base characters. There are about 50,000 possible combinations.

Heuen Chi, the inventor, conceived the idea that a typewriter could be made to write Chinese while he was at his home in southern China three years ago. He began a study of the Chinese dictionary to isolate the "radical" or base characters of the words. In most cases one character represents a whole word in Chinese, though thousands of those characters are made up of similar characters which alone represent words themselves.

Writes Japanese, Too.

Coming here as a government student after a period in London university, he continued work on his invention, which has been patented in Japan as well as China. It writes Japanese, too.

Consul General Y. Y. Yang, of this city, wrote the first letter on the machine. It was addressed to the Chinese minister in Washington and contained approximately 100 words. It took two hours to write, but the inventor said this slow speed was due to the unfamiliarity of the operator with the characters.

Washington, April 19.—Complaint of the pulp and paper manufacturers traffic association, of Chicago, that rates on pulp wood in car loads from points in Michigan to paper mills in Wisconsin, over the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic and other railroads, are unreasonable, was not sustained today by the interstate commerce commission.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Proverbs 4:1-13.

1 Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.

4 He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments and live.

5 Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 Wisdom is the principal thing: therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.

9 She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.

10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many.

11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in right paths.

12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.

13 Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life.

What the Fire Marshal Has Done

The first report to cover a complete twelve months of the operation of the Indiana fire marshal's department since its organization in the spring of 1913, has just been issued by State Fire Marshal W. E. Longley, and it contains much information that will be of interest to Indiana citizens. The figures showing a total fire loss of $7,926,936 in Indiana during the year 1914 are just a bit astounding, even to those who have long appreciated the tremendous economic waste by flames.

Mr. Longley shows that the expense of his department to the state in 1914 was $31;664,03. July was the month which led in both the number of fires, 977, and in the value of property destroyed—$1,172,545. Four-of-July celebrations are naturally credited with a goodly portion of the total for the month, and the figures furnish further argument for the "sane" celebrations of the Fourth.

Dealing with causes, the report sets forth that fires of "unknown origin were most numerous, with "sparks from chimney" and "communicated loss" following next in order. A total of 1,266 fires are charged to defective flues, with 1,762 fires of unknown origin and 1,332 from chimney sparks. Thirty-eight causes in all are assigned for the fires of the year. Incendiaries are credited with having caused a total of 166 blazes during the twelve months. On charges of incendiarism, thirty-one arrests were made. Of these, eleven were convicted, four acquitted, juries disagreed in three cases, and others have not yet reached final disposition. It is significant that the state fire marshal suggests as a remedy for what he terms the "fire bug germ" legislation toward the regulation of insurance underwriting, and he makes the contention that ninety per cent. of the "crooked" fires in Indiana are traceable to over-insurance and the temptation to burn to realize on the policies.

In carrying on its preventive work the fire marshal's department made a total of 17,906 inspections during the year, the most common violations of the fire code noted being the accumulation of waste and debris calculated to produce fires by spontaneous combustion or to aid in the spread of flames started by other causes. Mr. Longley believes, also, that many now idle hours of the paid town and city fireman might be utilized as an inspector of fire risks, and advises that he be so employed during a part of each day.

Section 10 of the new Indiana primary law promises to cause as much worry to Indiana republican leaders as did the famous schedule K to the tariff-makers. On the face of the statute, which provides that in order to voate at the primary, in the event of challenge, the voter must make affidavit that he is a qualified voter, that at the last previous election he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party for which he now desires to vote at the primary, and that he intends to vote for and support the regular nominees of such party at the coming election. The hitch in the case, of course, is the progressive voter, whom the republicans fear will be thus debarred from returning to the republican party fold, where the fatted calf awaits him. The situation is just now engaging the attention of a good many of the most eminent legal lights in the Indiana republican organization.

Delving back into history, a federal statistician has discovered that in 1860 the average tax rate per $100 of assessed valuation in Indiana was 90 cents; in 1870, $1.63; in 1880, $1.64; in 1890, $1.82; in 1902, $1.97; in 1912, $2.50, and in 1914, according to state reports, it was practically $3. Still, it hardly needed a comparative statistical report from the federal bureau to convince us that taxes are on the jump in Indiana. Any man who has been paying 'em has been morally convinced of that fact on two separate and distinct occasions each year—to-wit, spring and fall.

Failure of the convicted Terre Haute election gangsters to secure the bond that would have given immunity from incarceration in the federal penitentiary pending the decision in their appeal of their cases shows again how completely the power of the disreputable political gang has been broken by the jury's finding in the case. Without funds and without friends who could have come forward and at least deferred the stigma of the convict's uniform, Mayor Roberts and his followers appear to have been definitely elected to membership in the Down and Out club.

Just to still public clamor over the matter, which he seems to have detected considerably in advance of anybody else, Senator Borah, of Idaho, has taken occasion to issue a statement. Mr. Borah courageously declares that he is not and will not become a candidate for the republican nomination for president next year. But all is not yet lost. The senator coyly qualifies his attitude by the admission that should his party by any chance nominate him, he would accept. Let the procession again move.

Miss Stacker is a sister of Ruth Stacker, the American record holder for the fifty yard dash, and is president of the Hui Au Kai Swimming club in Honolulu. INDIANA'S PENAL FARM.

(Indianapolis News.)

The state penal farm in Putnam county, which has just been made ready for prisoners, is not an experiment, although the venture is the first in Indiana. Other states have conducted penal farms, generaly with much success. It is planned to alleviate distressing conditions in the jails, to decrease the cost of punishment, but, more than all, to improve the moral and physical lives of the prisoners. Indiana has purchased a farm which, the investigators believe, will admirably meet all demands made on it. It includes various types of soil, some timber, a portion of stone bearing land, and possibly some that may be developed for its chemical or mineral worth. A large part is devoted to ordinary farming and to the growing of fruit.

In no other two ways has the progress of humanity been more effective than in prison reform and the promotion of popular education. One purposes to salvage wrecks of manhood, and the other to build up true character. It is not so many years—not further back than Dickens' day—since prisone were squalid holes of inquiry. But to maintain standards raised now is not enough. There must be constant effort to improve.

Education may reasonably develop itself—good begetting good. A prison, this country has proved to its dismay, may sometimes be only a burden, and in no sense a corrective institution. The state penal farm should be corrective. The men who are to be sent to it are not of the most depraved stamp. It may well be that many of the inmates, with consideration and opportunity, will serve their terms and leave the place chastened and strengthened. For this reason, a serious responsibility rests on the management. Politics has no more right to influence the conduct of a prison than of a hospital. The chief aim of the penal farm is to help the prisoners to help themselves, thereby removing cares and burdens from society.

BRIDES AND PANCAKES.

(New York Tribune.)

The pies, the biscuits, the what-not that mother used to make have figured in song and legend for generations, but not until recently, in Newark, did they receive legal recognition. Now some Jersey judge will have to decide whether or not Mrs. Esther Bevensee is entitled to $50,000 because on occasion her husband, Edwin, preferred his mother's pancakes to her. It is a nice question, involving one's relative appraisal of good cooking and love, but rather perplexing to one's sense of chivalry. For how could anything be more tempting than mother's pancakes or more alluring than the bride's company?

Mr. Edwin Bevensee found the counter attractions of the two as strong as the white horses which used to pull people apart to suit the whims of ancient monarchs. Time was when a son was a son until he wed, or words to that effect, but that was before sweet brides became more plentiful than the pancakes that mother used to make. Today, therefore, the competition between mother and bride appears more nearly equal.

If brides would restore their former ascendancy, let them profit from this domestic dilemma, sign of a degenerate age, and learn again to duplicate those pancakes.

GERMAN AND BRITISH WOMEN WILL MINGLE

Many Will Be Delegates to Peace Congress at The Hague.

The Hague, Netherlands, April 19.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—Many well known women from Germany and the British Isles will meet at the International Congress of Women on April 28, notwithstanding that their countries are at war, and contrary to reports that German women had decided not to attend.

A list of German and British women who have expressed their intention of being present either as individual members or as delegates of societies contains the following names:

Germany—Flaulein Anna Edinger, Frankfort-on-Main; Frau Professor Dr. Heidseick, Coblence; Frau Dr. Lung Haesch Ernst, Ganting, near Munich; Frau Margarethe L. Selenka, Berlin; Frau Marie Wegner, Breslau; Frau Johana Birnbaum-Kadisch, Magdeburg; Dr. Anita Augspurg, Munich; Fraulein Lida Gustave Heymann, Munich; Frau Frida Perlen, Stuttgart; and Frau E. von Schlumberger, Stuttgart.

British Isles—Miss Mary E. O'Sullivan, London; Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Southey, Brighton; Miss E. Sylvia Pankhurst, London; Miss C. Drake, London; Miss L. Lind-af-Hageby, London; Miss Gore-Booth, Miss Esther G. Roper, and Mrs. C. Despard, London; Mrs. Crossfield, Cambridge; Miss May Watson, Ararowan, Scotland; Miss Elizabeth Helen Ford, London; Miss Margaret Ashton, Manchaster; Miss Sturge, Birmingham; Miss E. L. Voynich, Richmond, Surrey; Miss Marie C. Stopes, London; Miss Violet Vanbrugh, London; Miss Frances E. Newton, London, with Syrian friend; Miss Norah L. Smyth, London; Miss Chrystal Macmillan, Miss Marshall, Miss Courtney, Miss Leaf, Mrs. Wilson Wilson, and Miss Isabel Ford.

As far as is known here the United States is to be represented by a large contingent of women, among whom are Miss Jane Addams, and a number of members of the peace party.

There will be a few delegates from Austro-Hungary, and a few from Belgium. Among the neutral countries, Denmark, Italy and Switzerland will be well represented. The difficulties of French women getting to the congress are almost insuperable, and it is doubtful whether that country will be represented by more than two or three delegates.

One of the resolutions to be placed before the congress will demand that the governments of the world will no longer allow private ownership of armaments.

The next monthly tea of the Lady Maccabees of Hive No. 27 will be given at the home of Mrs. Frank Kintz, 722 Third street, Wednesday afternoon. Assistant hostesses are Ladies Fullerton, Maroney, Sessler, Sharp, Shearer and Eliza Smith.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.—Adv.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look Young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

SCHOOL ENUMERATORS ARE WORKING HARD

All Persons Under Twenty-One Years Are Being Counted.

Rapid progress is being made by the school enumerators who are at work in Fort Wayne and Allen county. Teachers in the schools and the children, as well, are handing out blanks which will reach every person in the city who is the head of a family or the person eligible to enumeration.

The general belief, found by the enumerator in the past, has been that names of children over sixteen years do not need to be given as being of school age. The law, however, says that all persons between the ages of six and twenty-one are of age for enumeration purposes, although they cannot be compelled to attend school up to that age.

The authorities are especially anxious this year to include every one of school age in the enumeration, in order that Fort Wayne may get what is coming to it from the state school fund.

For this reason those who are asked for names and ages are requested to give all information desired.

All changes for the new telephone directory must be reported to the telephone office this month. 15,19,22,26

The contract for the erection of the new home to be erected by S. E. Mulholland at Garden and Washington streets to cost $10,000 has been awarded to Contractor Henry Hilgeman. He has also been awarded the contract for the new $8,000 home to be erected by William Lichtsinn.

OSTRICH PLUMES CAN BE BOUGHT FOR $5

European War Eliminates Market and Costly Birds Are Sacrificed.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 19.—Want an ostrich, a full-grown ostrich, feathers and all, for $5? For the price of a pair of shoes you can become the owner of one in Arizona today.

A bird that stands seven feet high, strong enough to carry a man on his back or pull a carriage with the fastest horse, and with plumage to decorate several hats. Pretty cheap, isn't it? But it is just another one of the freak conditions caused by the war in Europe.

The largest ostrich farm in the United States is in Arizona, fifteen miles west Phoenix, on the Yuma road.

Before war was declared in Europe last August, a full-grown ostrich in America was valued as high as $150. Feathers from the birds were worth $75 a pound, London being the great feather market of the world. There are many thousands of ostriches on the farms of California and Arizona, but the American supply of ostrich feathers is so small that it has little or no effect on the world's market. South Africa, the home of the ostrich, furnished 95 per cent. of the plumes that find their way to the millinery shops.

War Hits Plume Market.

With the beginning of the European war, the London market for ostrich feathers closed down. English women abandoned luxuries, field hospital funds claiming their money instead. What little demand for a time there was for the plumes was amply supplied from the stocks at the feather shops.

The London market closed, South Africa ostrich men turned at once to New York, seeking an outlet for their plumes, and in a short time that market was glutted. Prices then took a tumble, such as they never before had known. Feathers that formerly sold at $75 a pound could be bought for $15, with little demand even at that unheard-of price.

"The slump in the plume market immediately after the beginning of the war was immediately felt in South Africa," explained a Phoenix ostrich fancier. "Although there was no market for the feathers, the birds had to be fed, and they were eating their heads off. They weren't worth their keep, and the owners began to look around for a way out from under this big expense which they had no idea how long would last. So they began to turn the ostriches loose on the plains and desert, thousands and thousands of them. If the war lasts a year there will be very few ostriches in captivity in South Africa."

WAR HAS INCREASED KAISER'S POPULARITY

Wilhelm Embodiment of All Most Admired by the German People.

London, April 10.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—"The German emperor's popularity has been undoubtedly increased with the war," writes "a neutral correspondent" to the Times from Germany. "He is considered to be the only man fit to serve as an example to his subjects and he is at the same time, the embodiment of all they most admire. His outward appearance, his mind, his piety, and almost all his undertakings are in accordance with the taste and wishes of his people.

"That he is clever, active and in many ways brilliant even his worst enemies admit; most of his subjects, in their idolatry, think him infallible. Among the military caste, however, though nothing is openly said against him he does not possess the same influence in directing strategical operations as he unquestionably had in the early stages of the war. His generals seem to have found a way of preventing him from seriously interfering with the campaign."

The new Lord Rothschild is not connected with the banking business which his father controlled during a long lifetime. The new lord, the Hon. Walter Lionel, is in his forty-eighth year. He sat for a time in the house of commons as a unionist member, but not finding politics to his liking, retired in favor of his cousin Lionel, oldest son of Leopold de Rothschild.

The real occupation of the new peer is natural history and the collection of wild animals, especially such as are capable of, at any rate, partial domestication. At Tring Park, his country home, he has built a most important natural history museum, which contains some 250,000 specimens of rare birds and insects. To add to this collection he has at times sent expeditions to the remotest corners of the world.

AT THE NEW PALACE

KEITH ALL-STAR ROAD SHOW.

Laddie Cliff and Will Oakland Big Features on Program.

The famous B. F. Kith all-star road show is on at the New Palace this week, starting this afternoon with the renowned Laddie Cliff and Will Oakland and associate singers as the two top favorites. Laddie Cliff is an English youth who but recently returned to vaudeville after having spent a season in one of the principal roles with the Folles Bergere. He is back with a refreshing budget of new songs, and a new scheme of eccentric dancing. Associated with the famous lyric tenor, Will Oakland, is a male quartet of splendid voices, who sing the musical novelty "At the Club." Mr. Oakland's voice is known throughout the country to many who never have even seen him, as his Victrola records are general favorites. In the skit, "At the Club," his splendid voice is afforded some excellent opportunities in the solo work.

The Alexander Kids, a talented team of tads, will be seen in a cleverly captivating group of dainty dances that have made them famous as juvenile wonders of the first water. Charles Cartmell and Laura Harris's singing and dancing novelty will present to Fort Wayne two entertainers who have made names for themselves on extensive European tours, and who are back in America with a brand new cycle of songs and novel terpsichorean numbers. The Tuscano Brothers, battleaxe jugglers, have the acme of the art of jugglery, hurling huge ponderous battleaxes through some particularly hazardous evolutions. Billy Lloyd and George F. Britt's mixtures of vaudeville and the International Polo games on bicycles complete this splendid program.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Victor Moore in "Snobs."

"Snobs," the current Paramount attraction at the Jefferson, is a picturization of George Bronson Howard's famous satirical comedy of that name. Victor Moore, the renowned star of the speaking stage, who has appeared with most consistent success in various of the Cohan and Harris production,s plays the role of the hero, Charles Disney. Disney is a common milkman, who suddenly, through the death of a rich uncle, finds himself transformed into an English duke with a million pounds sterling at his command. A perfectly good milkman may not be a perfectly good duke—at least not until he learns to do the "Duke business" as one born to the part.

Tomorrow, the Bosworth branch of the Paramount will present a magnificent picturization of Jack London's virile drama, "An Odyssey of the North."

AT THE COLONIAL

"What Happened to Jones."

The interrogative title of this uproariously funny comedy may be answered by the assertion that Jones was the pivotical storm center of more ludicrous happenings that usually befall the average man in the course of a lifetime. The comedy in the piece is derived from the numberless events of an excruciating nature which are gone through by Jones, a traveling salesman, who poses in turn as a bishop from Timbuctoo, a teacher in a young girls' seminary, and finally he is forced, unwillingly enough, to be classed as an escaped lunatic. The fun in Broadhurst's comedy is unrelenting, and from the opening reel until the climax, matters advance toward a climax that is fairly cataclysmic in its humorous proportions.

AT THE MINUET.

"THE ENVOY EXTRAORDINARY."

A five reel feature will be shown at the Minuet today in which a great deal of the activities of the present European war will be vividly thrown upon the screen. There are of course, many pictures of this greatest of all wars but none of them are intermingled with a stirring story of life. In fact, "The Envoy Extraordinary" is a picture of life as it is in Europe together with a most exicting story that holds the undidived attention of the audience throughout. This picture will be shown today only.

Why Is It Difficult to Walk Straight With My Eyes Closed?

The reason we cannot do this always is because when we walk naturally the steps taken by our right and left feet are not of equal length. This difference in the length of the steps is due to the fact that our legs are never exactly the same length. We think of them generally as of the same length, but they are not, and this will be proven if you measure them accurately. Now, then, the longer of the legs will always take a longer step than the shorter one, and so, if our eyes are shut, we walk in circles, unless we have something to guide us. When we walk with our eyes open, we are able to overcome the tendency to walk in circles, because our eyes help the brain to direct the legs on a straight course. The matter is that our eyes are very necessary in keeping our bodies balanced on our feet, and it is very difficult to learn to keep the body balanced with the eyes closed. Now, when your eyes are closed and you attempt to walk in a straight line your body balances from one side to the other, and this fact, coupled with the first reason given, makes your course irregular. But, say you, the man on the tight-rope has his eyes bandaged and he walks a very straight line. Yes; but remember that he has a straight tight-rope to guide him, and all he needs is to maintain his balance. One can learn to walk in a straight line with the eyes closed, but it takes a good deal of practice, as you will learn if you try.

ORDAINED PREACHER TO KEEP HIS VOW

Japanese Offered Life to Religion to Recover from Sickness.

Seattle, Wash., April 15.—Carrying out the vow made twenty-five years ago by his mother that if he should recover from a serious illness she would see that his life was consecrated to the ministry, Tosulke Mayami, a Japanese, has just been ordained a minister in the Congregational church.

A few hours preceding his ordination Mayami received a letter from his mother, now past seventy, who is living in Japan, blessing him for the step he was about to take.

"My parents were not Christians at the time my mother vowed to give me over to Jesus, and I am not certain to what God she appealed, but it must have been to our God, because the prayer was answered then and is answered now," said Hayami.

The ordination was performed in the new Japanese Congregational church, and was participated in by all the Congregational ministers in Seattle. The little church was crowded, a large portion of those present being members of the Japanese congregation, which numbers fifty-nine.

All changes for the new telephone directory must be reported to the telephone office this month. 15,19,22,26

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that is absolutely unequaled. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils will open, air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough, hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.

SCHOOL IS PROVIDED FOR ONE-ARMED MEN

Heidelberg, April 1.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—A "School for one-Armed Men," with thirty-five pupils from the Nineteenth army corps, offering instruction in writing, stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping and drawing courses, and a prospective curriculum of vocational courses, has been opened here at the home of Associate Judge Leser.

The latter has placed his home at the disposition of the unique institution, and has had it fitted out as a hospital. Thirty hours of instruction are given each week, which is to be supplemented by work under the auspices of the local industrial school. Dr. Freiherr von Kuenssberg, of Heidelberg university, is in charge of instruction.

The thirty-five pupils represent thirty-one occupations and trades, including cigarmakers, railway employes, locksmiths and day laborers. All are eager to embrace the opportunity. It has been found that within only a few days the man who has lost his right arm learns to write with his left hand with considerable facility. Because of the large number of applications for admission it is planned to enlarge the school very soon.

Splendid for Rheumatism.

"I think Chamberlain's Liniment is just splendid for rheumatism," writes Mrs. Dunburgh, Eldridge, N. Y. "It has been used by myself and other members of my family time and time again during the past six years and has always given the best of satisfaction." The quick relief from pain which Chamberlain's Liniment affords is alone worth many times the cost. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

TIES SHOTGUN TO FENCE.

Aged Man Near Anderson Takes Much Pains in Suicide Plans.

Anderson, Ind., April 19.—With a shot gun tied to the top of a rail fence and a pick axe to pull the trigger, John Lennon, 75 years old, committed suicide yesterday in a field at the rear of the home of his cousin, Lee Lennon, nine miles northeast of Anderson.

Inmate of School for Feeble Minded in Water Since April 4.

After being in the water since the evening of April 4, the body of Floyd Mannix, 21 years old, an inmate of the Indiana School for Feeble Minded, was taken from the St. Joe river, a mile and a half north of the institution Sunday morning. The body was found by J. L. Wensley, 436 West Fourth street, when the hook with which he was fishing caught in the boy's clothing.

Mannix disappeared from the school about 8 o'clock on the evening of April 4, and although attendants spent the entire night and the next day searching for him, he could not be found. The boy had on two suits of clothes, indicating that he intended to make his escape. In crossing the river it is believed he was seized with an attack of epilepsy and falling in the water was drowned. Another theory is that he might have stumbled and fell and, being unable to swim, met death.

The boy was brought to the Indiana School for Feeble Minded Youth from the Delaware County Ohphans' home several years ago. The only relative is an uncle, who has been notified.

Should Not Feel Discouraged.

So many people troubled with indigestion and constipation have been benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets that no one should feel discouraged who has not given them a trial. They contain no pepsin or other digestive ferments, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

BAN ON SUNDAY THEATERS.

Mayor Bell Will Have Nothing But Movies at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.—Mayor Bell, of this city, issued an order last night directed against Sunday theaters. While no effort will be made to stop moving picture shows and concerts, the mayor's order proposes that the police shall prevent all other forms of vaudeville in theaters on Sundays. Mayor Bell said it had been brought to his attention that a number of theaters which give vaudeville performances in connection with their moving pictures were putting on their full show on Sunday, the same as on a week day. The mayor said this practice would be stopped.

GARY IS NINE YEARS OLD.

Indiana City Holds Celebration of Its Birthday.

Gary, Ind., April 19.—Gary celebrated its ninth birthday yesterday and reviewed the almost miraculous changes in the short period. Thomas E. Knotts, the city's first mayor, walked over part of the trail, then made up of the sand dunes and marches, which he traversed when he came to the place that is now Gary, with its Broadway 100 feet wide, and paved for five miles. The city now has a population of about 40,000 and includes 52 nationalities in its foreign quarter.

The momentum of a modern twelve-car railroad train running a mile a minute is equal to that of a ton weight falling from a height of twenty-one miles.

LOCAL TAKE TWO FROM DULUTH

In No Danger of Losing at Any Time in Either Game.

Bade Myers' Cubs made it two straight from Duluth Saturday and Sunday, and had very little trouble at that. Before a very fair crowd Sunday and a scattering of early fans Saturday the local lads played a variety of ball that was Greek to the Northerners, and at no time in either game seemed to be in the least danger of a lose.

Donley and Green and Ainsworth and Long all worked well, and Beyers and Gard handled the receiving end in both games.

Saturday's Game.

In an effort to try out all his pitchers in the two games Bade Myers used two hurlers in each, and so it was that after four innings of big league pitching Donley was pulled out in the Saturday game and Green was substituted. The visitors grabbed off only one hit from Donley, and Green held them well except in the seventh, when he loosened up and let three men cross the plate. If Green hadn't rolled on the ground and thrown wildly at the plate after Murray broke a bat in this round, two of the tallies of the visitors would not have been scored. As it was he stumbled in trying to make a grab at the slow-coming ball, fell and misjudged his aim while standing on his right ear and left shinbone. The lineups and scores:

The Sunday Game.

Although Duluth opened with a run in the Sunday afternoon affair, the Cubs came back in the second with two to their favor, and although the scores held close five innings the boys from Minnesota Point hadn't a chance in the world. Four runs in the eighth put the game on ice for the locals and the visitors blanked in the final. The lineup and scores:

LOCALS TO LEAVE FOR TERRE HAUTE

Leaguers Start South Tuesday Afternoon for the Opening Game.

While the patriotic citizens of Terre Haute are singing "All Aboard for Leavenworth" Fort Wayne fans have struck up the lively tune of "All Aboard for Terre Haute," and Tuesday afternoon President William Klitzke and his aggregation of Cubs leaves for the city of Signor Donn Roberts.

Running as a counter attraction to Dr. Lyon, the locals will open the season at the town on the Wabash Wednesday afternoon for a series with the Highlanders. It is hard to dope out the opening lineup for there still hang on some of the recruits whose heads are bound to fall. Manager Myers seems to have forgotten how to rattle the can, and it certainly will be a tough job to separate the sheep from the goats at the last minute, for the crowd as it stands now is one of the best little companies of players that ever got together, without a weak sister in the lineup.

President Klitzke will go with Bade Myers and the Cubs to see the opening win, and will remain in the terrible town for the series.

Youngster Swims a Yard a Second.

She swam a yard a second.

Her name's Mabel.

She's the champion girl swimmer in America, though she is only 11 years old.

There's not a girl under 16 in the country who can cleave the water at as fast a pace as Mabel Donaldson can.

At least no girl has yet proved her ability to do so, and Mabel is fast getting a lead that none can hope to make up. A few weeks ago she held the national record for twenty yards in twenty-one seconds. Now she has just clipped another fifth from her own record at a big meet held at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.

Mabel's father, an Illinois golf professional, formerly held the swimming championship of Aberdeen, Scotland. He expects to make his daughter champion woman swimmer of America.

"It's just practice," Mabel explains. "Daddy taught me to swim almost before I could walk, and I've been at it ever since."

MUST NAME STREET PAVING INSPECTORS

Board of Works Will Soon Need Corps of Men on the Jobs.

The board of works must very soon select and appoint a corps of men to serve the city as inspectors of street paving, the contractors for this class of work being near the stage of work where inspection begins. Two of the men employed on this work last year have gone into contracting business and are not available. Peter Eggeman, for nine years chairman of the board of works, has been confined to his home for some time by lameness, but is able to be about on crutches and soon can leave his house. He will be assigned to duty at the Spy Run avenue retaining wall, where operations are again beginning. Other inspectors must be chosen shortly.

ORDER PLAYGROUND DEVICES.

At its regular meeting Saturday afternoon the park board ordered $850 worth of equipment for the public playgrounds in the city parks. The board fixed May 8 as the time for public hearings on the resolutions to establish a twenty-five foot building line, on both sides of Rudisill avenue from Hanna street to Broadway, on the east side of Broadway from the south line of Wilson's addition to Rudisill and on both sides of Anthony boulevard from State street to the east and west line on the north side of Anthony Boulevard place addition, and for a six-foot sidewalk on the east side of Anthony boulevard from Lake avenue to the south line of lot 44 of the same addition.

GOOD WEATHER FOR PAVING.

Under auspices of favorable weather the initial paving operations in Fort Wayne this season are proceeding rapidly. The Brooks Construction company has excavations far advanced on Grant avenue, a contract carried over from last year, and if there is no interference meanwhile by rain will begin to pour concrete Tuesday or Wednesday. The Grace Construction company has made rapid headway on the excavations for Smith street and will soon be ready to put in the foundation.

TAMPING MACHINE WORKS WELL.

The new tamping and cutting machine recently purchased by the board of works has been working well on Warsaw street, where it has tamped the earth in the trenches opened for water mains, producing greater and better results than hand labor. The machine was given a workout Monday in cutting asphalt pavement, for which it is equipped, going through the intersection at Warsaw street and Creighton avenue in a few minutes.

PUMPING WATER FROM WALL.

The Tapp Construction company has installed its pumps at the Spy Run avenue retaining wall and will begin draining the work so that operations in the concrete construction may be resumed. The St. Joe river is at an abnormally low stage for this season of the year and the work is greatly favored.

SHARP FIGHTING IN CONQUERED KINGDOM

powder. No casualties resulted nor was any serious damage done."

ALL INVENTIONS, SAYS BERLIN.

Germans Deny Reputed Victories of Allies in West.

Berlin, April 19.—(By Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—German headquarters this afternoon gavt out a report on the progress of the war as follows:

"To the south of Ypres the British yesterday were ejected from the minor German positions still occupied by them in this locality. British attacks along the railroad between Ypres and Comines broke down with very heavy losses to them.

Lent. Garros, a French aviator, has been made prisoner. This occurred at Ingelmunster, Belgium, thirty-seven miles north of Courtrai.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle there have been artillery duels.

"French attacks against our positions at Combres and in the Vosges resulted in failure.

"On the eastern frontier the situation remains unchanged.

"French and British reports concerning victories in the western front are all inventions, as is sufficiently proved by the regular reports from German headquarters."

NEAR THE BREAKING POINT.

Negotiations Between Rome and Vienna at High Tension.

London, April 19.—Whether the negotiations between Rome and Vienna concerning Italy's demands for territorial concessions have been broken off remains for the moment an official secret, but it appears to be universally agreed that the tension is approaching the breaking point.

Although there has been much fighting in both the eastern and the western fields, operations on a big scale are still awaiting improvement in the weather on one side and adequate supplies on the other. Indications are, however, in both the Carpathians and Poland that the greatest battle yet to be fought is imminent and that the coming clash in the Carpathians will coincide with a great German advance from the direction of Cracow. Activities in the Dardanelles are taken to mean an important move against the Turkish positions on the straits.

VON DER GOLTZ IS NAMED.

German Field Marshal to Command First Turkish Army.

Constantinople, April 19.—Field Marshal Baron Kolmer von der Goltz has been appointed commander-in-chief of the first Turkish army.

Field Marshal von der Goltz recently returned to Constantinople from a trip to Berlin, the object of which is reported to have been to urge the German government to send an army to attack Serbia. In the early part of the war he served as military governor of Belgium and in January was sent by Germany to Constantinople to assist in directing the Turkish army which he had reconstructed in earlier years.

MR. LIEBIG WAS MISTAKEN.

To the Editor of The Sentinel—I desire to say that I have discovered that I was entirely mistaken in identifying one of the ladies in the Hilker automobile when the accident occurred early Thursday morning as Mrs. Peter Harber, of Chicago, and wish to make this correction accordingly. J. H. LIEBIG.

TWO SURPRISE PARTIES.

The Jolly Thirty club from the A. I. U. lodge recently surprised Charles Gallogly in honor of his eighteenth birthday and a similiar event was given for Ernie and Vernie Riley in honor of their eighteenth birthdays. At the Gallogly home prizes were won by Hazel Rorbaugh, Fern Ashton, Warren Brooks, James Ulrich and Lois King and at the Riley home by Bessie King, Emma Ecker, Henry Koenline and Ernie Riley.

SENTINEL WANT ADS ALWAYS GET RESULTS

MUST OBEY ORDER OR BE PUNISHED

Superior Court Gives Arthur Ritter Week to Make Choice.

In the divorce suit of Zella Ritter vs. Arthur Ritter, the defendant appeared Monday morning in superior court in answer to citation for contempt in having failed to obey court's corder relating to the payment of money to the plaintiff. After making clear to Ritter that an order of court was a thing not to be trifled with, Judge Yaple gave him until April 26 to yield obedience or present himself in court to suffer punishment. Judge Yaple has sent several men to jail under circumstances that were similar.

Circuit Court Convenes.

The April term of the Allen circuit court convened Monday morning and Judge Eggeman received a number of motions and dismissed two or three actions that were pending. Neither the grand or petit jury of the circuit court has been summoned to convene at this time, but doubtless will be not long hence.

Sues for $5,000 on Contract.

In the superior court L. B. Leroy and J. M. Danby, doing business as the Leroy & Danby Cooperage company, at Proctor, Ark., have begun action against William K. Noble for $5,000 damages on a contract. The transaction involves some extensive shipments of barrel hoops.

Notes of the Courts.

The last will and testament of the late Friedrich W. Franke, of Adams township, has been filed for probate. Such money as remains in his estate after the payment of his just debts and funeral expenses is left to his children, Hermina, Lydia, William, Theodore and Adolph Franke, and all the balance, real and personal, is left the two daughters, Hermina and Lydia, share and share alike. Hermina is named executrix.

In the superior court a divorce has been granted to Edgar Coddington from Mary Coddington.

The case of Dee Weaver against Frank J. Rahe and the city of Fort Wayne for $24,000 damages was resumed in the superior court Monday morning. The defense began the presentation of testimony, having medical men as witnesses. The court has upheld the city attorney's motion that the jury be instructed to find for the city so far as the municipal corporation is concerned in the suit.

The last will and testament of the late Henry A. Futter has been filed for probate. All his realty and $1,500 cash are left to his daughter, Elizabeth Fritz, for life, the realty then to go to the testator's grandson, Edgar Heger.

In her last will and testament, just filed for probate, Lovina I. Rhine leaves her estate to her husband, if he survive her, and if not then to their two sons and two daughters.

COUNTY HEALTH REPORT.

County Health Officer E. M. Van Buskirk has filed his report for the first quarter of 1915 showing that for the period there were in the county outside the city 119 cases of whooping cough, 92 cases of diphtheria, 41 cases of scarlet fever, 81 cases of chickenpox, 28 cases of measles and three cases of smallpox. There were 135 marriages—55 in February, 45 January and 35 in March. Brides ranged in age from from 16 to 70 years.

said he saw no reason for adopting a sterner rule in criminal appeals than in vicil appeals and held where questions of law and fact were intermingled in civil cases, as here, the United States supreme court may review a state court's finding of fact.

"The single question in our mind," continued Justice Holmes, "is whether a petition alleging that the trial took place in the midst of a mob savagely and manifestly intent on a single result, is shown on its face unwarranted by the specifications, which may be presumed to set forth the strongest indications of the fact that the petitioners command. This is not a matter for polite presumptions, we must look facts in the face. Any judge who has sat with juries knows that in spite of forms they are extremely likely to be impregnated by the environing atmosphere. And when we find the judgment of the expert on the spot, of the judge whose business it was to preserve not only form but substance, to have been that if one juryman yielded to the reasonable doubt that he himself later expressed in court as the most anxious deliberation neither prisoner nor counsel would be safe from the rage of the crowd we think the presumption overwhelming that the jury responded to the passions of the mob."

COURT MEANS EXHAUSTED.

Frank's Attorneys Will Now Ask Commutation of Sentence.

Atlanta, Ga., April 19.—Leo M. Frank's attorneys when informed of the decision today of the United States supreme court said they believed every means in Frank's behalf before the courts now had been exhausted. They added that they now probably would prepare a petition for presentation before the Georgia prison commission asking for commutation of Frank's sentence.

"I am very much disappointed over the supreme court's decision but I will keep up the fight," said Leo M. Frank when informed that his habeas corpus case had gone against him. He refused to add to that statement.

The mandate of the supreme court is expected to be received by the federal district court here in a few days. Upon its arrival Solicitor General Dorsey probably will request that Frank be arraigned before the Fulton county superior court for re-sentence.

velt was sitting with his back toward his opponent. To all outward appearances neither was aware the other was anywhere near.

As soon as Justice W. A. S. Andrews had ascended the bench the roll of the special panel of 75 talesmen was called and the selection of the jury began. Each side was informed by the court that they would be allowed six peremptory challenges. The talesmen were questioned by Wm. L. Barnum, Syracuse attorney for Mr. Barnes. He wanted to know whether the political prominence heretofore of either one or both of the principals would effect the decision of possible jurrors. He also asked talesmen whether they believed a man in politics might be libeled just as any other citizen. In fact, that the defendant had been president of the United States and governor of New York was also dwelt upon by the attorney in framing his questions.

Under the procedure adopted for the selection of the jurors, Mr. Barnum continued the questioning of talesmen. It was planned to have him examine 12 men and then allow counsel for Mr. Roosevelt to question them. As the examination proceeded, Mr. Barnum delved deeper into political and legislative matters asking the talesmen to what extent they had been interested in such affairs. Once during the questioning, Mr. Barnes, who had changed his seat, swung around in his chair and gazed at Col. Roosevelt for fully two minutes and then swung back to the table again and wrote a memorandum on a pad of paper. The colonel seemed to be intensely interested in the answers given by the talesmen. He leaned far across the table in front of him so as to catch every word that was said.

NOTICE.

To the Public:

An article appearing in the daily papers, in the Cour news, may be somewhat misleading.

The article referred to, is the divorce suit of Hattie B. Heffelfinger vs. John K. Heffelfinger, in which Mr. Heffelfinger is made to appear in one paper as an employee of the Hamilton National Bank, and in another as janitor. The complaint alleges habitual drunkenness, and that he spends all his money in saloons.

Mr. Heffelfinger is not an employee in the bank, neither is he the janitor. For a year or more he has run the elevator in our building, and has performed the duties assigned to him in a very satisfactory manner. At all times he has been polite and courteous to the public, sober, industrious, and attentive to his duties, and at no time has he, to our knowledge, been under the influence of liquor in any shape or form.

We voluntarily make this explanation in justice to Mr. Heffelfinger, and to correct any impression that may be gained, reflecting upon the habits or integrity of the employees in our banking office.

HAMILTON NATIONAL BANK.

Walter R. Seavey, of the Seavey Hardware company, who has been seriously ill at the Hope hospital with pneumonia, is reported much improved.

unaccompanied men would arrive today.

"It is my forty-ninth trip to Leavenworth with prisoners," said Mark Storen, United States marshal in charge of the party. "This is as jolly a bunch as I ever took up there."

The marshal said when the train reached Kansas City Mayor Roberts stood up in the car and strained to get a glance over the shoulders of Edward Holler, former chief of police, who was seated. "I'll see it again before you will," said Holler smilingly.

Holler is Ostracized.

During the stop of the train at Kansas City, a photographer on the platform took a flashlight picture of Edward Holler, former chief of police of Terre Haute, who was leaning out of the car window. The flash startled Lewis Nunley, assistant city engineer of Terre Haute, who received a two years' sentence.

"What's that?" he asked.

"Oh, a photographer took Ed Holler's picture," some one announced.

"Take it and put it in every newspaper in the country. Holler's a squawker," cried Nunley.

"Yes, he's a snitch," said another.

Holler, under sentence of one year and one day, sat all the way from Indianapolis on the rear seat of the car. Ostracized by his fellow travelers, Holler pushed himself as far as he could into the corner and pulled his hat down over his eyes. Not one of his companions would speak to him. They derided him because he had turned state's evidence.

Redmans Sit Together.

In one of the seats Eli Redman, judge of the circuit court, and his son, Hilton, 22 years old, sat together all the way, the father going to serve five years and the son two years.

As the guards were checking the men into line when they came off the train, Judge Redman and his son stood together but the son's name was called first and he went to the head of the line. Redman held up his hand meekly to attract the attention of the guard. No one paid any attention to him and then spoke: "Please may I go with my son?" he asked. Still no one noticed his request and he was hustled up into line. He stood there with lowered head. Dennis Shea, sheriff, would not speak to Roberts during the journey blaming the mayor for his plight.

CHEERFUL ON THE WAY.

Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—The special car carrying Mayor Donn M. Roberts and fourteen others convicted in the Terre Haute election conspiracy case arrived here at 7:30 o'clock this morning en route to the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth. The party spent one hour in Kansas City and then proceeded to Leavenworth.

No one was permitted to board the car here. When the train carrying the men came into the depot three cans of steaming coffee were taken to the coach. Then the serving of breakfast began. It consisted of the remains of a "box lunch" which was given each man when the train left Indianapolis. Officials in charge said the convicted men all were cheerful and had stood the journey well.

LEAVING INDIANAPOLIS.

Indianapolis, April 19.—With smiling countenances and with Mayor Donn M. Roberts leading the fifteen prisoners, convicted in the Terre Haute election conspiracy case and sentenced to the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, by Judge Anderson, started on the trip to prison at 1:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were due to arrive at Leavenworth at 9:54 Monday morning.

Due to the fact that the time for the departure was not made public here only a small crowd was at the station as the prisoners, each accompanied by a special deputy United States marshal, boarded the special car attached to a Pennsylvania passenger train.

While the Terre Haute men were being placed in line in the jail yard, preparatory to marching to railway station, the 82 men, who were given jail sentences for their part in the conspiracy, shouted good-bye to those on their way to prison and joined in passing good natured jokes back and forth. The prisoners were not shackled, but a guard walked beside each prisoner, accompanied him into the car and occupied the seat beside him. United States Marshal Mark Storen was in charge, and as soon as the newspaper men climbed aboard, ordered that the doors be locked.

None of the wives or relatives of the prisoners were permitted to accompany the men from the jail to the station. Many of the relatives of the men had been in the jail during the morning and several of the prisoners wore flowers on their lapels.

Six others who received prison sentences and who withdrew from the appeal early in the week, had promised Judge Anderson to start for prison not later than noon today. Since withdrawing from the appeal, the men had been at liberty at their homes in Terre Haute. The six are: Arthur Gillis, John Masselink, Joseph O'Mara, George Sovern, Joseph Strauss and Maurice Walsh, all of whom had received sentences of a year and a day in prison.

The fifteen taken to prison and the sentences they received are: Mayor Roberts, six years and a fine of $2,000; Dennis Shea, who resigned last week as sheriff of Vigo county, five years and $1,000 fine; Eli H. Redman, judge of the circuit court, five years and $1,000 fine; Edward Driscoll, assistant city engineer, three years, fine, $500; George Ehrenhardt, member of board of works, three years, fine, $500; Harry Montgomery, president board of works, three years, fine, $500; Thomas Smith, city judge, three, years, fine, $500; William Crockett, superintendent city crematory, two years, fine, $100; Hilton Redman, son of Judge Redman, two years, fine, $100; Elmer E. Talbott, city comptroller, two years, fine, $100; Lewis Nunley, assistant city engineer, two years, fine, $100; John E. Green, merchant, two years, fine, $100; Alexander Aczel, street inspector, year and a day, fine, $100; Charles Houghton, city hall custodian, year and a day, fine, $100; Edward Holler, former chief of police, year and a day, fine, $100.

It is understood that Mrs. Roberts, wife of the mayor, who spent a large part of the morning at the jail, will continue her efforts to obtain the appeal bond for her husband. Judge Anderson fixed the bonds at the rate of $10,000 for each year sentenced to prison. While eleven names still remain on the petition for an appeal, no bonds have been obtained.

THRONG AT TERRE HAUTE.

Terre Haute, April 19.—Long before the train, bearing Mayor Donn M. Roberts and accompanying federal prisoners reached Terre Haute, the train sheds and vicinity of the Union depot were thronged. It was estimated that fifteen thousand persons saw the train which pulled into the station with curtains drawn at all windows of the special car bearing the prisoners and guards. Just as the train pulled out the curtains were raised and Roberts and others waved good-bye to their friends.

Mayor Roberts reached through the partly open window to grasp hands of a few friends. He called to Frank B. Striley and announced he had appointed Striley to act as treasurer of the democratic county committee, succeeding Maurice Walsh, who also was sentenced to Fort Leavenworth.

As the train passed the home of Louis Nunley, one of the prisoners, Nunley, tossed from the window a letter to his mother on which he had pinned a pink carnation which he wore from Indianapolis.

During the trip from Indianapolis Roberts, Eli H. Redman, George Ehrenhardt and Harry S. Montgomery were occupied in a game of pinochle. They resumed the game after a brief interruption in Brazil where Roberts spoke from the window to some of his friends on the platform.

Other prisoners who were permitted to return home to attend to personal business, left for Fort Leavenworth earlier in the day.

OLD NICKEL PLATE OFFICIAL IS DEAD

E. A. Miller, With Road from Its Infancy, Succumbs to Pneumonia.

E. A. Miller, superintendent of motive power of the Nickel Plate, with headquarters in Cleveland, died at his home in that city last Saturday from pneumonia, after an illness of ten days. The deceased was employed on the Nickel Plate from the time the road was opened to business up to the time of his death and was known all along the line. The greater portion of his service was in the capacity of master mechanic at Conneaut, Ohio, where he resided until ten or twelve years ago, when he moved to Cleveland to take up the duties of superintendent of motive power, succeeding John MacKenzie, who died a few weeks previous to that time. The interest displayed in his condition during his illness by officials and employes of the Nekel Plate from Buffalo to Chicago was proof of the high regard and love for Mr. Miller entertained by all. He was a member of the Nickel Plate Employes' Veteran association and was one of the speakers at the annual meeting held in Fort Wayne three or four years ago. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon from the Congregational church in Conneaut, of which the deceased was a member many years, and arrangements are being made to give opportunity to as many of the employes everywhere on the line to attend as can be spared from their work. For the accommodation of the employes at Fort Wayne a special car will be attached to train No. 6, which leaves the city at 2:30 Tuesday morning. At Cleveland this car will be attached to a special train and leave that city for Conneaut at 9:30 Tuesday morning. Among those from Fort Wyne who will attend the funeral will be Supt. W. F. Watterson and Supt. H. N. Williams.

E. A. MILLER.

FIVE SLIGHTLY HURT.

G. R. & I. Passenger Train Strikes a Wreck Train.

As a result of a rear end collision between a G. R. & I. passenger train and the Pennsylvania wreck train at Adams, five miles east of the city, at 1:20 Sunday morning, five people were slightly injured and an engine and a passenger car were damaged, the latter only slightly. The injured were:

C. E. Fortney, of Grand Rapids, mail clerk, elbow bruised; William Leipholz, of Grand Rapids, mail clerk, right forearm bruised; Hal Elzea, of Columbus, Ind., a passenger, gash in forehead, not serious; Mrs. H. B. McNeil, of Petoskey, Mich., a passenger, neck sprained, and Mrs. A. G. Hofstater, of 520 Madison street, nose bruised and lip cut, not serious. All of the wounded were attended by Dr. E. J. McOscar, the company's surgeon, and sent to their respective homes.

The accident was probably due to a confusion of signals. The wreck train had been a mile east of Adams, where Pennsylvania engine No. 7513, pulling westbound train No. 11, had cast a tire and was returning to the city with the disabled engine. At Adams, where the G. R. & I. strikes the Pennsylvania, the wreck crew crossed over from the westbound to the east bound tracks, to give the right of way to the G. R. & I. passenger train. The tower man failed to close the switch leading to the eastbound track and the passenger train ran into that track and crashed into the rear of the wreck train. The pilot and the smoke stack of the G. R. & I. engine, No. 12, were knocked off, a drawbar on one of the coaches was driven in and a coupling on a car of the wreck train was the only damage to equipment. The passenger train was in charge of Conductor P. Pembroke and Engineer J. R. Anderson and Fireman M. A. Coleman were in the cab. The train was running at the rate of twelve miles an hour when the collision occurred.

NINETY-ONE PER CENT. ON TIME.

Remarkable Record of Prompt Movement of Trains on Pennsy.

The Pennsylvania railroad operated 70,190 passenger trains in March and 64,067 of them—91.3 per cent.—arrived at their destinations "on time." On the New York division—that part of the railroad between New York and Philadelphia, and the division having the heaviest passenger traffic of the railroad—11,146 trains were operated and 10,166, or 91.2 per cent., of them, arrived "on time." The Pittsburg division operated 5,292 trains and 4,999, or 94.5 per cent. of them made a perfect record. On the electric line of the West Jersey & Seashore railroad, out of 2,480 trains, 98.2 per cent. arrived "on time." Three divisions, the Allegheny, West Jersey and Seashore (steam service), and the Monongahela, had more than 97 per cent. of their trains arrive "on time." The Conemaugh and Media divisions had records of 96 per cent. perfect, while the Bellwood, Tyrone, Renovo, Sunbury, Elmira, Trenton, Sckuylkill and Manhattan divisions had more than 94 per cent. of their trains arrive "on time."

Every effort is being made by the Pennsylvania railroad to expedite the movement of passenger trains so that no passenger will suffer annoyance from delays.

ENGINE BREAKS AXLE.

Accident Blocks Wabash Tracks at Hugo Several Hours.

Engine 2074, pulling a heavy Wabash freight train, broke an axle two miles west of Hugo at an early hour this morning and for awhile the track was completely blocked. A number of the men from the Wabash shops in this city were sent to the scene, with wrecking apparatus, and they succeeded in bringing the cripple into Fort Wayne without calling the wreck crew from Peru. The only passenger train delayed by the accident was No. 9, westbound, which was held up two hours. The crippled engine will be repaired in the local shops.

WILL PUSH ORGANIZATION WORK.

As a result of a recent meeting in Indiannapolis of the executive committee of the district International Association of Machinists, active work in organization has already commenced. The state has been divided into four districts for organization work. Clayton H. Johnson has the Fort Wayne section, George O'Day the Indianapolis section, Ed Carbine will have the Terre Haute section and some general organizer will look after the section in the northwestern part of the state, including the cities of Hammond, Michigan City, Logansport and Lafayette. In Mr. Johnson's territory are Fort Wayne, South Bend, Garrett, Elkhart, Peru, Wabash, Kokomo, Marion and Muncie and he will make occasional visits to each.

OPEN MEETING OF ENGINEERS.

Every stationary engineer, whether a member of the union or not, is invited to the meeting at the Commercial club Thursday night to enjoy the hospitality of the union and get better acquainted with other men engaged in the same work. The early part of the evening will be devoted to speeches by E. W. Puckett, of the Fort Wayne Oil Supply company; a representative of the Dodge Manufacturing company, of the Union Steam Pump company, the Revere Rubber company and several local labor union men. Following the speaking will be a "Dutch" lunch. Similar meetings last year were productive of much good.

WILL OPEN SEASON IN MAY.

L. D. Nordstrom, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, president of the Lake James Motor Boat club, is preparing to mail to each member a list of the assignments of dock privileges at Lake James. The dock is 200 feet long and nine feet wide, with slips for each motor boat. Mr. Nordstrom is also mailing to members a book of rules for running the motor boats out on the lake. The club now has twenty-eight members.

FRED HARTMAN HERE.

Fred S. Hartman, of New York, is here for a double reason this week. He is visiting relatives and attending to business for the General Electric company. Mr. Hartman is the manager for that company of the power and mining department at its New York office. For many years he was employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works and, as usual, he was given an ovation when he appeared there this morning.

ELOPED TO MICHIGAN.

Friends of Miss Nora Kelley and Frank McGuire will be surprised to learn that they were married by Justice Weaver, at Hillsdale, Mich., April 10. They will live with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGuire, on East Taber street. Mr. McGuire is employed in the shipping department of S. F. Bowser & Co. and the bride was employed at the Wayne Knitting mills.

MOVED TO NEW YORK.

The John-Mandville company, the selling agents for the Audiffren ice machine, has abandoned its offices in this city and will hereafter transact all business from the New York office. The company maintained a clerical force of six or eight men in Fort Wayne until last week, when they transferred a part of the force to New York. The others found employment in the various shop offices in Fort Wayne.

KENNETH EARL IS DEAD.

Kenneth Earl, eight years old, who was injured when a Wabash train struck the buggy in which he was riding, with his mother, Mrs. Charles Earl, and sister, Beatrice, killing the former instantly and injuring the latter so she died an hour afterwards, died yesterday after suffering intensely twenty-four hours. The story of the accident was published in Saturday's Sentinel.

BUSINESS BETTER IN SHOPS.

A heavy demand for small motors has put the small motor winding department at the Fort Wayne Electric works on a "double" trick, working a day and night gang. Just how long this condition will last is hard to tell, but it is hoped it will continue all summer.

STOREKEEPERS MEET HERE.

All of the division sorekeepers of the Pennsylvania Northwest system assembled here this morning to hold their monthly meeting, which will probably last until tomorrow evening. C. P. Cherry, of the Western division, is presiding at the meeting.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Machinist John Weikart, of the Pennsylvania tool room, is sick.

E. C. DesPrez, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is off duty on account of sickness.

Nickel Plate Brakeman J. S. Tyler was off duty on account of sickness several days last week.

E. C. Rebling, who was sick a week, resumed work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Ner Ellis, who had an eye hurt last week, reported for work at the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

Nickel Plate Agent C. A. Pritchard and his family were guests of his parents at Leipsic Junction, Ohio, over Sunday.

MOTORISTS FINED FOR VIOLATIONS

Lima, Ohio, Man Pays $50 and Costs for Speeding His Car.

H. H. Long paid a dollar a mile for his fifty-mile clip on the Lincoln highway, near the Four-Mile house and put in $10 extra for costs. He lives in Lima, Ohio, and it was explained Monday in the city court that he was hurrying homeward with a friend whose wife was reported dangerously ill in the Ohio town. Motorcycle Officer Dan Kintz arrested Long, who was going fifty miles an hour. No denial was made in the city court of Long's excessive speed, but the circumstances of his haste were offered in mitigation. Judge Kerr said he could make no exception to his rule of $50 and costs for violations of the speed laws, and took occasion to announce that if that penalty proved not severe enough to refrain scorchers he would raise the limit.

George W. Adams, of Bryant, Ind., paid two fines of $10 and costs each, a total of $40, for driving his car at night without a tail light and for driving without license tags. He is the man who was given an hour on his own recognizance Friday night, by Captain Richard Kelly to go get bond and then stole his car from the garage where the police had placed it and tried to get out of town. He drove to Portage avenue, left his machine at the roadside and came back to town to say farewell to his sweetheart on West Berry street. The police learned of his exploit at the garage and captured him after he had made a dash from the Berry street house.

Rudy Claymiller in Bad.

Rudy Claymiller was certified to the circuit court, having been arrested on a drunk charge. He is under suspended sentence in the circuit court for neglect of his children and leniency had been shown him that he might make good. Drink is his bane and Saturday night he was found on the street down and out.

Something in Pickle of Worley.

After taking the testimony in the case of James Worley, charged with drunkenness, Judge Kerr continued it until Tuesday morning and held Worley under $200 bond. Worley gave his wife a terrible beating Friday night and on Saturday night was waiting in a pawnshop to receive the money for some of her clothing, which he had put up, when Detective Sergeants Immel and Rundell arrested him. He evidently was preparing to leave the city. He is an incorrigible rowdy and brute and this is his third arrest within a few weeks. Mrs. Worley was badly injured by him Friday night and Judge Kerr hopes to get her testimony before he disposes of the case.

Other City Court Cases.

Vern Snyder was fined $5 and costs for assault and battery on Frank Hoy and a similar charge against Hoy was continued indefinitely. Snyder was drunk Saturday night and got into trouble at the Enterprise restaurant on Calhoun street and was put out by Hoy and his father, who run the place. Snyder tried to re-enter and was drubbed.

Guy Ladig, a youth who has been in trouble before for stealing, was certified to the circuit court on a charge of petty larceny. In default of $300 bond he went to jail. He has been stealing bicycles and several dismantled wheels were found at his home. He is suspected of wholesale operations in bicycle thefts. He pleaded guilty to the larceny charge.

Oscar Deal, an 18-year-old youth, was turned loose after a hearing on a loitering charge. He was arrested by Officer Kammer, who testified that he had trouble with Deal in trying to disperse a gang of loafers who hang out at the corner of Jefferson and Calhoun streets.

William Anderson, charged with wife desertion, was continued until Tuesday under $500 bond and the same disposition was made of George Mills, charged with neglect of his children.

The case against John Williams, charged with drunkenness, was dismissed by the prosecutor. Williams, who was a paroled prisoner from Michigan City prison and was arrested here five days after he had been given his liberty, has been taken back to that institution.

William Taylor, colored, and Harry Bessie, a white man, caught in a raid on a hobo camp several days ago and since that time on loitering charges, were turned loose.

FRISKED FOR HIS MONEY.

Joe Koseza, a Russian Pole, complained to the police Monday that after he had been flim-flammed for $2 in a card game by some other Poles two of them held him while a third went through his pockets and stole $15. He says he was roughly handled by the men. Koseza boards at 1134 Eliza street and says the robbery took place in a residence opposite. He will file an affidavit.

ESCAPED ALLEY WORKERS.

Paul Hachle, a traveling man who is a guest at the Rich hotel, reports to the police that late Saturday night he was solicited by two negro women on Montgomery street at the alley along the Craig Biscuit company's plant and that when he refused to have anything to do with them was seized. In the struggle, he says, he felt a knife rip his pocket from which one of the wenches took a purse containing $75. He wrested it away from her and the negresses fled.

KEEP URIC AICD OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Adv.

Will Be Presented to the Council at Meeting Friday Evening.

Officials of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company are in receipt of a drastic ordinance which will be presented to the city council at Peru, Tuesday evening, regulating the jitney buses in that city.

The proposed ordinance provides that all applications must be made to the city clerk, who will turn over the same to the superintendent of police for investigation and report his findings to the council direct. A bond of $10,000 will be required by all jitney operators. No person under 18 years will be allowed to act as chauffeur and the common council will determine routes and revoke licenses of such operators who fail to run over the prescribed territory. No substitution of cars will be permitted unless permission from the superintendent is obtained. No passenger will be allowed to ride on the running board and not more than one passenger will be allowed to ride on the front seat with the driver.

A sign, visible at least 100 feet, showing route to be traversed and fare charged must be displayed by all automobiles, such signs to be approved by the superintendent of police. No operator can refuse passage to any individual unless he is guilty of intoxication or obscene language. The tonneau must be lighted satisfactorily. All passengers must enter and leave jitneys from the right side of car or side nearest the street curb. The maximum speed must be fifteen miles during the day and ten miles during the night. 16,000 ATTEND THE OPENING SERVICES

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Terre Haute, Ind., April 19.—Dr. Milford H. Lyon, who since the first of this year has conducted stirring revival meetings in Fort Wayne and Tiffin, came to Terre Haute and opened a six weeks' meeting in the tabernacle Sunday. It is estimated that over 16,000 people were present at the three services of the day. The prospects for a great campaign are auspicious.

Forty automobiles were at the railroad station when Dr. Lyon arrived here Saturday, and Saturday evening at the welcome banquet tendered him over 200 of the city's prominent church workers were present. The city seems to be aroused with interest and prospects are that at the close of the tabernacle meetings Terre Haute will be known as a Christian city.

The tabernacle has a seating capacity of 6,000. The choir ampitheatre is constructed so as to seat 1,000, and all but 200 of these were filled Friday evening when the tabernacle was dedicated. Rev. A. J. Folsom, of Fort Wayne, gave the dedicatory address in which he impressed upon the minds of his listeners the chance the city now had to determine who would be the master.

One of the ministers of this city says: "In my nine years experience in the religious field at Terre Haute I never saw such unity as has been shown at the present time. With every minister and his church enlisted for the Lyon campaign, I believe not only the greatest spiritual awakening the city has ever had will be the result, but the greatest Indiana has ever known."

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF LEONARD BOBAY

Neither the city police nor Sheriff A. C. Gladieux have found any clue to the whereabouts of Leonard Bobay, the young Washington township farmer, who has been missing since Friday, when he drew his accounts, amounting all told to $1,300, from the Hamilton and Old National banks and in company with a stranger disappeared from the sight of all who know him. Bobay is 30 years old and unmarried. With his brother, John Bobay, he has occupied and worked an extensive farm near Academie station. He is said to always have been everse to women and no suspicion of there being a female in the case connects itself with his disappearance. The fact that he was with a stranger gives rise to disquieting theories both for his personal safety and the security of the large sum of money he had with him when he dropped from the sight of his friends. He left home Friday morning, saying he meant to come to Fort Wayne to pay his taxes and transact other business, but he did not call at the county treasurer's office.

BOY STRUCK BY MOTOR TRUCK.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knake, 2518 Weisser Park avenue, was struck Saturday afternoon, near his home by a motor delivery car owned by the Grand Leader department store and driven by H. E. Sutton, receiving slight injuries. The lad had been in a car driven by his uncle and alighted from it where it was standing and started for his home, when he was hit by the delivery car. The parents of the child deny the report that the little fellow was playing in the street and dodged directly in front of the car that him hi.. He was attended at his home by Dr. M. F. Schick.

BALANCE AGAINST THE WORKINGMAN

Not So Well Off as a Few Years Ago, Says Federal Bureau.

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Washington, April 17.—Workingmen in the United States are considerably worse off now than they were a few years ago. The "real wages" of 1,500,000 workers declined steadily from 1907 to 1913, according to the bureau of labor statistics. According to the first tabulation of "real wages" ever made by this bureau, and now being shown by means of a graphic electric chart at the Panama-Pacific exposition, the bureau concludes that where a dollar in 1907 would buy 121 food units, in 1910 it would buy only 107, and in 1913 only 100.

This startling decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar was accomplished by a slight decrease in hours of labor, and a somewhat more marked increase in rate of wages. But the rise in food prices wiped out these advantages, and left the laborer considerably worse off in 1913 than he was in 1907. With the same tendencies at work, it is evident that he is still worse off now than he was in 1913.

These conclusions are based on all the wage reports issued by the bureau of labor statistics, and cover both the general wage and the union wage scales.

One of the first cases to be tried under the new Sherley amendment to the food and drugs act has resulted in a victory for the government, and a consequent strengthening of the hands of the officials of the department of agriculture who are trying to protect the public from false and fraudulent claims on patent medicines. The Sherley amendment was passed to patch up the hole which was punctured in the food and drugs act by the supreme court of the United States when it declared that a false and fraudulent therapeutical claim could not be prosecuted under the law. Now, if the government officers can prove medical claims to be false and fraudulent, a conviction can be secured. Last week a product called Bad-Em-Salz, manufactured by the American Laboratories of Philadelphia, was declared a fraud by a jury in the United States district court. The government charged that certain statements on the printed matter were false and fraudulent, in that it claimed to dissolve gall stones, to head off gastritis and to cure diabetes. The defense failed to produce a single physician to substantiate the claims of this "medicine" except the manufacturer himself.

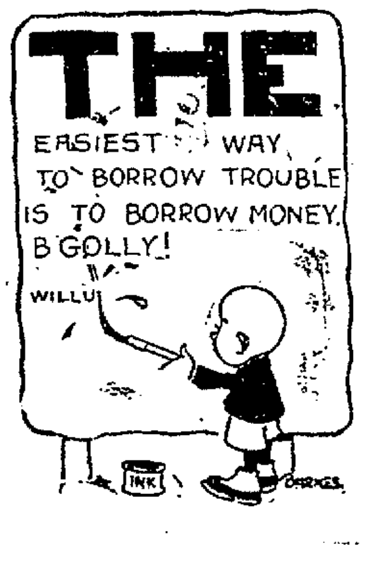
President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, is in favor of adequate national defense. In answer to questions propounded to him, Mr. Gompers said: "Organized labor has every reason to realize that we have not yet reached the millenium. Experience in industrial affairs has taught workers that absence of the means for defense and self-protection invites attack and injustice. The power to enforce right is a tremendous element in establishing justice. Under present conditions it would be suicidal for any one nation to begin disarmament. The power of self-defense, even though not exercised, is the greatest force for the maintenance of justice and national rights. Anti-militarism does not mean to give up the right of national defense." Mr. Gompers expressed himself in favor of the Swiss or Australian system and laid emphasis on democracy in the army.



NEW LABOR UNION.

The Brotherhood of Hod Carriers and Building Laborers is a new labor organization which had its first meeting Saturday night and applied for charter. There were eighteen signatures to the roll membership Saturday night and this number will be doubled, it is believed by the men active in the organization of the new union before the charter is closed. Attendants of lathers, plasterers and brick and stone masons are eligible to membership, and there are over 100 in the city.

WILL BE INVESTIGATED.

Frank Penninger, who gives his residence as Toledo, was arrested by Detective Sergeants Spillner and Junk, Monday morning, and locked up at police headquarters on a loitering charge. He will be investigated. Penninger has been running in and out of Fort Wayne at short intervals for some time and appears to have no business. He admits he has been in trouble in Toledo.

health and old age forced him to retire from active work. His two sons conducted his business for him.

As the senior member of the firm of Carter & Sons he became widely acquainted and his host of friends will be grieved to learn of his demise. The furnace establishment formerly was located on Clinton street, but in the past few years has had its shop at the rear of the residence on Old Fort Place.

Mr. Carter was a man whose pleasant disposition won for him countless friends and was a very active worker in church affairs. He is survived by three children: Charles and William H. Carter and Mrs. W. H. Polhamus, all of this city; one sister, Mrs. J. C. Witzel, who made her home with Mr. Carter; one brother, Albert Carter, who recently moved to Tennessee; twelve grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Carter was a veteran soldier, having enlisted in December, 1863, in Company E, Eighty-eighth Indiana volunteers. He served in all more than three years, having been transferred to Company H, of the Thirty-eighth regiment as a veteran recruit on June 7, 1865. He was mustered out of the service later in the same n—

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 19.—Active general buying today carried wheat prices up with a rush. On the bulge, free selling took place but as soon as a break occurred the demand increased and a sharp rally followed. The market was extremely nervous. After opening 1c to 2¼c higher the market here reacted to a moderate extent and then promptly advanced again.

Trading in corn showed a much larger volume than has recently been the case. The opening, which varied from ⅛c to ½c to 1c up, was succeeded by some additional upturns.

Oats rose with other cereals. Selling pressure was light.

Ascending values for grain and hogs lifted provisions. Demand though was only fair.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 19.—Heavy trading in stocks was renewed today but last week's sensational movements were lacking. United States Steel resumed first place as the most active issue with initial sales of 7,500 shares at a fraction over last Saturday's high figure. Bethlehem Steel rose 1½, New York Central led the railways with a 2½ point gain. St. Paul, B. & O., New Haven, Union Pacific and L. & N. rose one to two points. Amalgamated Copper, American Locomotive were heavy but Amalgamated soon made up its loss. Mexican Petroleum was strongest of the specialties, gaing 7½ points.

Activity abated somewhat towards midday but sales in the first hours were estimated at 800,000 shares. Railway investment issues made further headway while industrials were offered with greater freedom. Trading in steel continued in enormous volume but the stock failed to hold its rise, which was accepted as proof of persistent selling. Demand for stocks was greatest among brokers with western connections. A formidable list of declines included some of last week's conspicuous specialties, New York Airbake yielding several points. Free absorption of New York Central debentures sixes was the feature of the bond market.

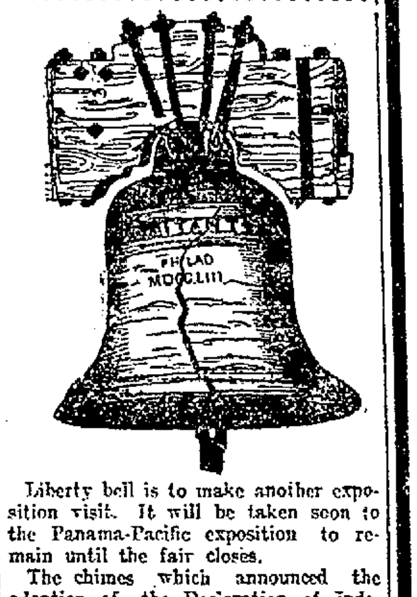
If Report on Canal is Rejected Promoters Can Take an Appeal.

Members of the army board who were to have been here Monday to pass on the report of Captain Lewis H. Watkins on the survey for the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal are not coming until Monday, April 26, according to word received Sunday by Captain Watkins.

Much interest is being taken in the coming of the army board by promoters of the proposed waterway. Before they leave it will be announced to a certainty whether Captain Watkins' report is to be accepted or rejected. If unfavorable action is taken then those interested in the project will be given an opportunity to appear before the river and harbor board at Washington, D. C., and present reasons why in their opinion the canal should be constructed.

Although no information has been given out by members of the government forces working on the survey, it is believed that the southern or Taylor route will be the one that will be selected by the army board. It is contended that the southern route is the most feasible. Members of the Chicago Association of Commerce are anxious that the southern route be selected. It makes no difference to local enthusiasts, however, for the reason that Fort Wayne is on both the proposed routes.

Liberty Bell to Go to San Francisco



Liberty bell is to make another exposition visit. It will be taken soon to the Panama-Pacific exposition to remain until the fair closes.

The chimes which announced the adoption of the Declaration of Independence July 4, 1776, is not a "made-in-America" bell. It was brought from England and recast with the words "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all its inhabitants" inscribed on it.

LOS ANGELES POLICE HEAD GOES ON TRIAL

Sebastian Calls Charges by Girls Plot to Ruin Mayoralty Chances.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 19.—Charles Sebastian, candidate for mayor and chief of police until he was suspended at his own request ten days ago, was to be placed on trial today in the superior court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Edith Zerkin, a minor. He is a joint defendant with Mrs. Lillie Pratt, the half-sister and guardian of the Zerkin girl. The grand jury indictment accuses them of subjecting Miss Zerkin to indignities and to scenes tending to subvert her morals.

Sebastian also is under indictment charged with contributing to the delinquency of Victoria Desparte and Cecile Livingston, wards of the juvenile court. Sebastian and his counsel, Earl Rogers, jointly were indicted on a charge of attempting corruptly to influence the grand jury in its investigation of the stories told by these girls.

Sebastian asserts the accusations of the Desparte and Livingston girls were the outcome of a plot to ruin his chances for mayor at the primary election May 4.

SENTENCES GIVEN YOUNG ANARCHISTS

New York, April 19.—Frank Abarno and Carmine Carbone, anarchists, who made and set a bomb in St. Patrick's cathedral March 2, when hundreds were worshipping within the edifice, were sentenced today to serve not less than six years nor more than 12 in Sing Sing prison. Abarno and Carbone were found guilty by a jury last week. The detection and conviction was due to the detective work of a young Italian policeman, Amedio Polignani, who left the police school for recruits, posed as an anarchist, won the prisoners' confidence and as a supposed fellow-anarchist, followed every move in the conspiracy, keeping police headquarters advised almost daily during the months of his investigation.
